County Tax Rate Cut by 4.7 Cents

Levy Reduction, Rise in Values Results in New 35.5-Cent Rate

A new Madison county tax rate of 35.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation—a drop of 4.7 cents below last year's 40.2-cent rate—was announced today by County Clerk Eulalia Rott.

The county rate is the first in this year's new tax extensions now under way by the county clerk's office on the basis of 1969 assessment figures recently certified by local and state assessing officials.

Rates established by the clerk's office will be used as the basis of tax bills to be collected this summer.

Miss Rott said the new county rate is extended against a new total county valuation of $977,123,885, including railroad and capital stock values, as compared with last year's aggregate valuation of $959,217,064.

Assessments Raised Locally. All of the $26.9 million increase in the county's assessment this year was in local property valuations. The Illinois State Revenue Department decreased both railroad and capital stock assessments.

The reduction in the new county tax rate would mean a drop of $4.70 in the tax on a house assessed at $10,000.

The clerk's office reported the new county rate for the 1969 tax year is based on a total tax levy of $3,464,106 adopted by the county board of supervisors last November—a reduction of $99,487 below the 1968 levy of $3,463,513.

Although county finance officials projected a five-cent rate reduction when the new levy was adopted in November, that estimate was based primarily on the reduction made in the assessment increase of nearly $27 million that developed early this year.

Five Rates Raised. Actually the reduction in the overall county rate is made up of a number of slight reductions in some of the 16 different accounts for which taxes are levied separately. In fact, the rates of five of the accounts showed increases and two of them remained unchanged. There was a reduction in the rate of the fund account rates, and one new account—supervisor of assessments—was added with a slight tax rate.

Slightly more than half of the total county rate reduction was brought about by the elimination of this year's levy of an extension for the working cash fund. Last year the county levied $237,615 for the working cash fund, resulting in a rate of 2.5 cents. That account is not included in this year's levy or rate extension.

This means that the county has accumulated rate reductions of only 2.2 cents per $100 fund accounts levied for the 1969 year, on which taxes will be collected this summer, despite the fact that it cut last year's tax levy by nearly a million dollars and has a valuation.

Circuit court action seeking a writ of mandamus to compel Madison county to permit reopening of the old Chouteau Island landfill in the Chouteau town-

The suit was filed in behalf of the Chouteau Island Corporation, operators of the landfill that closed down two years ago, and is directed against the Madison county board of supervisors, its building and zoning department and county sanitation committee.

Carl Buehler, Granite City assistant supervisor and chairman of the sanitation committee, said the county board of supervisors, building and zoning director, and Paul Hawkins, county sanitation officer.

"The complaint sets out that the corporation obtained a permit to reopen the dump," he said.

Drug use is spreading into all areas of society and all geographic areas at an alarming rate, enslaving increasing numbers of youths in a life of crime, degradation and early death.

Staff members received sets of nine questions which had been posed most frequently by local teachers in recent conversations.

They also received the answers—some frightening, all enlightening—compiled by Brown from Granite City school and governmental experiences and

Nameoki Plans Larger Hall for Annual Meet

Because of the large number of electors attending annual Nameoki township meetings in recent years, this year's annual town session will be held in the Long Lake Fire Department community hall at Pontoon Beach, according to plans announced at the regular township meeting Monday.

The annual town meeting this year will be held on April 14 under a revised statute passed at the second Tuesday of April, rather than on the first Tuesday of April as in the past.

The annual town meeting always fell on the same date as the township election in odd-numbered years. In the past annual meetings were held in the township garage.

Lou Whittell, town clerk, reported that reduction in tax levies for the various town funds is almost certain as the result of balances which were increased recently by settlement of back taxes due for the 1968 tax year. Whittell reported that the township's report showing a balance of $20,476 in the town fund, $13,146 in the road and bridge fund, $27,810 in the hard road fund, $98 in the special bond fund and $710 in the municipal retirement fund for total balances of $68,492.

Bills Held Up. Bills outstanding against this sum Monday night amounted to $66,116 at the end of the township's fiscal year. The board tentatively held up approval of road and bridge fund bills of $98 and hard road fund bills of $143 until the fund can be transferred into the proper accounts to retire the bills.

Whittell pointed out that while sufficient appropriations have been made, the board tentatively held up approval of road and bridge fund bills of $98 and hard road fund bills of $143 until the fund can be transferred into the proper accounts to retire the bills.

6 School Filings In Area; Walton To Leave Board

Six candidates filed petitions for election to Quad-City school boards as the filing period opened Wednesday.

Dr. Eugene W. Walton, president of the Granite City board whose second three-year board term is expiring, said last night he does not plan to seek re-election.

Filing petitions in Granite City District 9 were Carl M. McManaway, Chester C. Crider, 2422 Killbuck drive; and Phillip Dressel, 366 Terrace lane. Two positions are to be filled.

Others who have obtained petitions are Albert Ward Jr., 2408 Hodges avenue, and an unidentified man.

Filing petitions for re-election at the Madison District 12 administrative office were Chester McManaway, 1682 Second street, board president, and Harold T. Fisk, 1124 Iowa street.

Three terms on the Madison board are expiring, including that of incumbent John Bell, who has not filed for re-election.

Petitions have been obtained by Raleigh Freeman, 1015 S. Odes Kemp, two sets; and Sherrell Byrd, one set. All three re-election bids are in the hands of the district.

With two terms expiring in Venice District 3, incumbent Richard Bailey, 233 Hill street, and Eugene P. Bell, 1111 E. 11th street, have filed petitions on the opening day.

The other incumbent, Fred B. Durr, Jr., 1011 E. 11th street, has not filed for re-election.

The deadline to file petitions is March 20, with March 24 as the final withdrawal date. Absentee ballots may be cast up to April 8 by mail and until April 8 in person.

School district elections will be held on April 11.

Dr. Walton told the Press-Record, "Due to the demands of my practice and other commitments, I find it impossible to continue serving on the board of education after this term. Therefore, I will not be a candidate for re-election."

The two Madison county delegates will be in attendance at the Alton meeting as co-chairmen. Wendell Durr is a member of the Revenue Committee and Ray Johnson is a member of the Local Government Committee.

9 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Madison county must depend upon the state for air and water pollution control because the county has been unable to get enough money at the local level to carry out an adequate clean air and clean water program.

Members Attended Hearing. Buehler was accompanied to the hearing by County Board Members Virgil Barmelmeier, Raymond Galloway, Frank V. Voigt, and Kenneth Voigt, who with Buehler make up the Sanitation and Pollution committee. Harold Landolt, chairman of the county board, and Milton Allen, assistant chairman of the county board, also attended.

The hearing, held in the Holiday Inn at St. Louis, was the second of a series of hearings by the county board on the state's proposed legislation for air and water pollution control.

GC Steel Joins Study Group To Curb Coke Oven Pollution

Granite City Steel Co. has joined other steel producers in jointly supporting research and production tests designed to reduce air pollution around coke ovens, the company's stockholders were told in the 1969 annual report mailed today.

As announced earlier, the company earned $1,200,000, or 28 cents per share of common stock, in 1969 compared with a net loss of $6,660,000, or $1.33 per share, in 1968 as a result of the elimination of major sources of pollution.

The annual report stated that "a heavy and continuing investment in pollution control facilities has already resulted in considerable improvement. The plant is far ahead of where it was a few years ago and the progress in air and water quality control are under investigation."

New Charging System. "Our company is participating in the development of new coal charging cars which reduce emissions escaping from the ovens in the atmosphere. A new charging system is under development."

In addition, Granite City Steel is helping support research into an entirely different method of manufacturing coke. The by-product ovens, in almost universal use today, allow the capture of most of the gases and vapors given off when coal is broken down to produce coke. However, the process does not prevent the escape of emissions during the relatively short period when the lids are removed from charging holes in the top of an oven for the charging of a new load of coal.

The annual report pointed out that the company "has taken effective steps in recent years to eliminate major sources of pollution. A $3,500,000 gas cleaning system for the new basic oxygen steelmaking furnaces removes more than 99% of the dust generated by the steel-making process. The largest electrostatic precipitator in the area removes about 200,000 pounds of iron oxide dust a day, and this installation has particulate matter out of the air than any other pollution control measure in the entire area," the firm stated.

"The company has invested more than $3,000,000 in a treatment system for water that has been used for cooling, cleaning, quenching and other plant purposes. A series of isolation ponds and stabilization lagoons, covering 37 acres, is used to treat effluent water, in almost

Johnsen, Durr Co-Chairmen Of County Con Con Hearing

All residents of Madison county and surrounding areas are being invited to appear before a joint committee hearing of the Illinois Constitutional Convention at Alton Friday, March 6.

The special session is a follow-up to hearings held in other parts of the state recently.

Partney To Veto Bills on 2 Chiefs

GC Council Votes 11-4 To Take Authority for Chief Appointments

"All you're trying to do is take powers away from the mayor," Alderman Samuel Whitmer told Granite City council members Monday night as they proceeded to approve ordinances for council appointments of the police and fire chiefs.

Mayor Partney said after the meeting that he planned to veto the two ordinances on the chiefs and also the ordinance adopted Monday night designating that only police officers could be assigned as station desk clerks. This would eliminate the two women assigned as desk clerks at the station on Feb. 1.

In the past several years, the council has consistently overruled the mayor's vetoes.

Arguments and a few challenges took up nearly 45 minutes of the short, 70-minute council session, with all three ordinances gaining approval by 11-4 votes. Only Alderman Clyde Boyd was absent.

Amendment Attempted. An attempt was made to amend the chiefs appointment ordinance to switch the authority from the mayor to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners rather than the council members. But a 11-4 amendment proposed by Alderman Thomas Boker, was voted down 5-10.

Commenting on the council's action after the session ended, Mayor Partney told the Press-Record he planned to veto the ordinances for the protection and benefit of the people in Granite City.

The veto messages will be due at next week's regular council meeting on Monday, March 7. The 11 votes would be sufficient to override the mayor's proposed action.

The ordinances for council appointment of the two chiefs were presented for approval by Alderman Gerald I. Parmley, chairman of the Ordinance committee, who noted they had been placed on first reading at the first meeting of the month, and action had been deferred last week. The second was by Alderman Roy Poulos, chairman of the Police committee.

Out of Politics. Boker immediately offered his amendment, and the second was by Alderman Paul R. Boker, who noted they had been placed on first reading at the first meeting of the month, and action had been deferred last week. The second was by Alderman Roy Poulos, chairman of the Police committee.

Members of all nine substantive committees are expected to be at the meeting.

Delegates Durr and Johnson report that the members of the committees have been hearing a variety of views. They urge residents of this area to give their ideas, advice and guidance to the delegates as they carry out the necessary work on the constitution.

Although it is not necessary to reserve time to appear before committees, if a time is desired persons may contact Wendell Durr, 1025 St. Louis street, Edwardsville, telephone 656-0506, or Ray Johnson, 315 E. Center street, Troy, telephone 667-9766.

A large turnout of persons interested in seeking to improve government in Illinois is sought.

However, several aldermen remarked almost simultaneously that the commissioners were expected to do his bidding.

Alderman Walter Nann suggested the aldermen support the proposed ordinances. "It would take a two-thirds vote of the council to veto the chief. He has protection."

Baker reread the ordinance and said he saw no provision in it for a two-thirds vote. Whitmer remarked he favored the mayor appointing the chiefs.

The Interstate Transit System will earn sufficient revenue during its 1970 fiscal year to meet operating expenses, including a $1 million wage package increase, and strike and contract negotiations, but will incur a deficit of more than $500,000 in its depreciation reserve fund, Commissioner of Transportation Robert S. Knapp who told the state legislature in adopting a new budget.

The new budget projects earnings of about $2,857,000, less depreciation of $3,357,000, leaving a net operating revenue of $2,751,000.

The deficit of $515,900 will be covered by a trust fund in which 7% of gross revenues been put into a depreciation fund for improvements, according to Bill S. Chairman. Robert S. Knapp who told the legislature that the transit system will not generate enough revenue to meet this re-

"The budget reflects an anticipated decline of 3% in passenger patronage and an increase in operating expenses occasioned by last spring's wage settlement," Knapp said. "It means, too, that we will have to hold the line and maintain a ratio of expenditures to income of 88.4%. This compares favorably with the national average of 98.4% and offers evidence that Bi-State Transit System is one of the most stable in the nation financially."

Seek Missouri Aid

The chairman pointed out that Bi-State is seeking $900,000 from the state of Missouri to provide a local matching share.

He added that he is confident officials of Missouri will recognize the need to assist the system by following the Illinois policy of exempting Bi-State from state fuel taxes and subsidizing lower fares to students.

He noted that under present plans, Bi-State in the next 12 months will pay $270,000 to Missouri in motor fuel taxes, and if the current reduced rate for school children is continued the Bi-State system's revenues will be reduced by an additional $650,000 in Missouri.

The board Tuesday also was informed that 27% of the present employees of Bi-State Transit System are Negroes. As of Jan. 1 the transit system had 1549 employees which included 500 Negroes, the report said. Of 1264 bus operators, 356, or 28%, were Negroes. The maintenance force of 327 workers included 1116 Negroes, or 36%. Employed in administrative capacities were 258 employees, of which 28, or 12%, were Negroes.

Eye Precautions for Eclipse Stress—'View Indirectly'

"An eclipse of the sun is a fascinating, but dangerous sight," warns the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Due on Saturday, March 7, is a total eclipse of the sun, with the southeastern portion of the United States in the path of the total eclipse, and all other parts of the country experiencing various degrees of partial eclipse.

Opening the two-day program will be a concert on Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the University Center's Meridian Room featuring five SIU-SW choral groups: the Male Chorus, the Women's Glee Club, the Madrigal Singers, the Concert Chorus and the Community Choral Society. The public is welcome admission free.

It is estimated that the path the eclipse will take makes it "available" to more people than any other in history. Added to this, said Dr. David, is the fact that the eclipse will be on a Saturday, and at about mid-day, further increasing the opportunity for eclipse-watching.

Normally the dazzling visible rays prevent anyone from looking directly at the sun. Although these rays are blocked during an eclipse, the invisible dangerous infra-red rays continue to be emitted. Infra-red rays can cause damaging burns to the eye's retina, the delicate back inner layer of the eye which transmits images to the brain. The retina is not sensitive to pain, so a retinal burn is not "felt."

"There is no safe way to view the eclipse directly," according to Dr. Wilfred D. David, executive director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc.

He has participated in 500 festivals, numerous workshops and seminars. Associate conductor of Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians of NBC and CBS radio and television from 1946 to 1952, Hogard was co-founder and dean of the Waring Summer Choral Workshops.

Prof. Hogard will conduct the regular rehearsals of the Concert Chorus at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday in Room 1029 and the Madrigal Singers at 2:30 p.m. in Room 018 in the Communications Building. Visitors are welcome.

Christ Costoff Facing Liquor Commission Probe

An investigation into whether Christ Costoff, Madison alderman, has an interest in a tavern business operated under a license issued to his wife, is under way by agents of the Illinois Liquor Control Commission to determine if Costoff is in violation of an Illinois statute which prohibits elected officials from having a direct or indirect interest in liquor concerns.

Maple said that if evidence gathered by the commission "gives the slightest indication" that Costoff has an interest in operation of the business, the Madison alderman will be required to appear at a hearing March 30 to refute such evidence and prove he does not have such interests.

"We intend to look into real estate records, voting records and all sources of information to determine if Costoff is interested in operation of the tavern," Maple said. "We expect to complete our research about March 10."

The tavern in question is the Starlight Tavern, 1225 Madison avenue. Costoff held the license to the tavern prior to 1961, but it was transferred to Mrs. Costoff in January 1961, followed by Costoff's election as alderman of the Fourth Ward in Madison in April of that year, according to Madison city records.

Costoff could not be reached for comment.

Affects Elected Officials

The law under which elected officials are prohibited from holding an interest in a liquor business applies to such officials as mayors, aldermen, city councilmen, village trustees, members of county boards and law enforcement personnel.

Maple said that the Liquor Commission's present docket of March 30 hearings also includes at least three Madison county cases involving alleged dilution of liquor or substitution of cheap liquor in bottles supposed to contain expensive brands. Eight such cases are also under investigation and the docket may be increased, he said.

"We have been making an intensive investigation of tavern conditions in both Madison and St. Clair county because, next to Cook county, that area has the greatest number of Drunk Shop cases," Maple said. During 1969, he noted, more than 1100 Drunk Shop cases originated in the Madison-St. Clair bi-county area.

The March 30 hearing docket also includes the case of State's Atty. Robert Rice of St. Clair county, who recently was disclosed to hold stock in the operation of a liquor store in Fairview Heights near East St. Louis, Maple said.

PROTECT YOUR EYES, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness warns, pointing out the only recommended safe way to view the March 7 eclipse of the sun is indirectly. Take two pieces of white cardboard, make a pinhole in one, and with the sun at your back focus the eclipse through the pinhole board onto the second board. The size of the image can be changed by altering the distance between cardboard. Never look at the eclipse through the pinhole or through binoculars or telescope.

General Fund Rate

In the general fund, where state laws peg the tax rate at a legal maximum of 10 cents, the new rate is set by the county clerk's office at 9.06 cents, or only .84 of one cent less than the maximum 10 cents extended last year.

The general fund levy for the 1970-71 year ended in November, was $884,469 compared with $1,226,283 the previous year.

A reduction of 1.99-cent is shown in the tuberculosis sanatorium rate which was 5.21 cents last year and is extended at 3.22 cents this year. The 3.22 cent rate is based on a levy of $314,570, down from last year's $403,320.

Slight increases are shown in new rates for the highest rate of 6.04 cents (up .18 of one cent); special bridge fund with a new rate of 4.45 cents (up .05 of one cent); municipal retirement fund with a new rate of .42 cents (up .49 of one cent); and veterans' aid with a new rate of .33 of one cent (up .03 of one cent).

The rate for auditing is unchanged at .14 of one cent, as is a 1-cent tax rate for election purposes. The new rate for mapping and planning is .74 of one cent, down only .03 of one cent, while the new rate for mental health is .48 of one cent, down only .01 of one cent.

The new rate for the detention home is 1.39 cents, a drop of .28 of one cent, and the rate for detention home bonds is .28 of one cent, down .10 of one cent.

YMCA Soccer Set to Resume on Saturday

Boys' Tri-City YMCA Soccer Association spring season will begin Saturday with five games at the St. Elizabeth field.

The seven-division association has added eight local teams to total 37, including one team from Collinsville.

Last spring, 38 squads competed. Nine Collinsville teams departed from the local association to form their own league.

Boys wishing to play may phone the Tri-City YMCA youth department or Mendota Sports Goods. Sixteen seven-year-olds are especially invited to join. The league is for boys through 14 years of age.

Benefit Game in March

Association President Ruben Mendoza has announced that a benefit game is being planned for mid-March at the St. Elizabeth field, pitting the St. Louis professional Stars against a major amateur team.

The possible formation of a regional association is being discussed among Mendoza and representatives from leagues at Belleville, Cahokia, Collinsville, Fairmont, Clay, Duplo and Caseyville.

The area wide association could begin activities by the fall season, with a potential for statewide end-of-season championships for each age division and an inter-city high-school age league.

Conservationists to Study Management Of Wildlife in Illinois

A task force of six prominent conservationists has been organized to study the game division of the Illinois Department of Conservation. Acting Director Dan Malkovich has announced.

The chairman is Dr. W. D. Klimstra, Carbondale, director of cooperative wildlife research for Southern Illinois University.

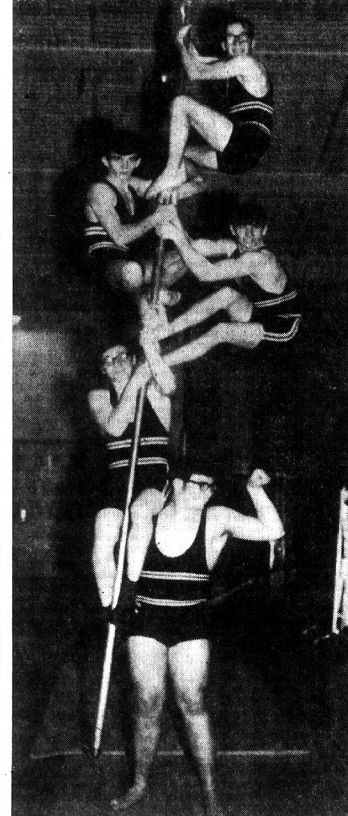

Other members of the task force are Jack Calhoun, Virginia, Ill., a biologist and leader of the forest game project for the Department of Conservation; Dr. Dale Birkenholz, Normal, biology professor, Illinois State University; John Worth, Springfield, president of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs; Dr. George Burger, Danville, general manager of Max McGraw Wildlife Foundation; and Dr. John Warrick, Macomb, associate professor of biology at Western Illinois U.

Malkovich said the task force is to study the organization, policies and goals of the division of game and recommend changes that will provide the best game management program for the state.

Dr. Klimstra said the first job of the task force will be to assess the division and its programs.

"We will consult with division personnel to capitalize on their knowledge and experience," Klimstra said. "Also, we will look at similar organizations in other states and consult with national authorities to determine what the best possible organization could be."

"We want to set up an ideal game management program, one that will be a source of pride and inspiration for those who work in it, and a program that will benefit all the people of Illinois," he concluded.

CLIMB TO STATE TOURNEY. Five Warriors, having climbed past district and sectional competition, strike a pose showing how "high" they are for the state wrestling tournament this weekend.

In ascending order are: Heavyweight Dan James, 120-pound Fay Burcham, 123-pound Al Bridgeman, 107-pound Lenny Fuchs and 98-pound Bruce Miller.

Eyes on Bridgeman, GC, Waukegan in Meet

Wrestling—whether for state-wide honors or just for fun—is a highly individualized sport. When one moves out to the center of the mat to meet his foe, he can look nowhere for help except to his own experience, strength, skill, stamina and courage.

But team statistics also will be tabulated in the Illinois High School Association championship meet tomorrow and Saturday at Horton Field House on the Illinois State University campus at Normal.

When the competition is over, 12 weight class champions will have been crowned; the maximum weights in each division are 98 pounds, 107, 115, 123, 130, 137, 145, 155, 165, 175, 185 and unlimited. And a new state champion school also will have been determined.

Coach William Schmitt's Granite City high school grapplers have known what it is like to wear the mantle of outstanding wrestling team in the state. They tied for the top honor in a past IHSA tourney. They have had a number of weight champions.

Among Favorites

Whether they can repeat in 1970 is unknown but they have to be considered as one of the favorites, since they have advanced five wrestlers to the state level this year. And all five won sectional championships.

Eight sectionals are sending the winner and runner-up in each of the 12 weights for a total of 192 contenders this weekend.

Numerical superiority is not always decisive, but it helps. Since there are more potential pointmakers. One year, however, a school won the Illinois title with only two wrestlers, both of them formidable wrestlers.

It is rare that any one high school has more than one state champion, since the competition is extremely superior and rugged.

Miler Won Last Year

A year ago, Bob Miller of GCIS was the 109-pound state champ; that year, Moline won the overall title, edging North Chicago 33-32.

With five entries this year, GCIS matches the representation of Chicago Tilden, Park Ridge's Maine East and Pekin high school. But Waukegan qualified six matmen.

Advancing four wrestlers each to the state tournament are Bloomington, Chicago Far-

GC Seeks Its 2nd State Mat Title

The Warrior mat season will end tomorrow and Saturday where it always ends, at the state tournament.

This year the tourney will be held at the Illinois State University Normal Horton Field House in five sessions: Friday, first round at 1 p.m. and second round at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, semifinals and consolation bouts at 1 p.m., consolation finals at 6 p.m. and championship bouts at 7:30 p.m.

Warrior chances for bringing home the state crown can be rated as "possible."

Compared with past GCIS teams which took top honors, the current squad must perform better per man than did the Granite City state runner-up squad of 1967 and better than the 1965 state co-champion squad.

The 1970 representatives are five sectional champions: 98-pound Bruce Miller, 107 Lenny Fuchs, 123 Al Bridgeman, 130-pound Fay Burcham and Heavyweight Dan James.

7 Entries in 1965

The 1967 GCIS state squad had five sectional champs and two runners-up. In 1965, six champs and one runner-up from the sectional went to state.

However, in 1967 Rock Island won over all others with only two grapplers.

Favorites at state are Waukegan and North of Chicago. Waukegan will have the most entries of any school with three sectional champs and three runners-up. North of Chicago has four sectional winners.

North last year lost the state crown to Moline by one point, 33-32, on a pin in the final 50 seconds of the final heavyweight bout.

Three other schools threaten Granite City's title chances with five entries each.

Champs, Unbeaten Matmen

North's top entry is 130-pound defending state champ Dennis Parker. Waukegan and North both competed this year in the same district, a d sectional tourney. North's four state qualifiers have a combined 120-1 record.

A highlight is the fact that 30 boys who are undefeated have advanced to the state finals. Four individual champions are returning.

The 98-pound class should provide outstanding competition as two of the participants will be the 1969 third-place winner, Mike Perucky, Waukegan, and Jim Weaver, Crystal Lake; both are undefeated. Also, the 165-pound class has the undefeated wrestlers vying for individual state championships.

Two returning champs who attempt to retain their status at a higher weight classification are Ken Gerdes, Tinley

Park, at 107 instead of 98; and Dennis Parker, North Chicago, at 130 instead of 127. Another returning champion is Rick Keber, Waukegan, who is undefeated and will attempt to add the 115-pound crown to his 103-pound title.

Many GCIS State Records

GCIS already has one new state wrestling record in 1970—possession of the oldest, longest and only perfect record of earning a state berth every year since the Illinois mat championships began in 1937. That is 33 consecutive tournaments; there was no meet in 1944.

Champaign had been keeping pace but is unrepresented this year.

The Warriors hold the highest score for a non-champion team in state—41 points in 1967. Eight years later, GCIS won a share of first place with 31 points. Best ever was the 65-point total amassed by champion Waukegan in 1966.

The 1965 Warrior state co-champs included a sophomore sectional champion, Bill Fuchs, brother of the current team's Lenny Fuchs.

Another GCIS state mark is the most wrestlers to finish fourth at state, 15 so far. Waukegan has had the most individual champs, 29, compared to Proviso East's 27 and Champaign's 22.

GCIS would like to break the record for most tourney champs from the same school in one year, four, set in 1941 by East

St. Louis and matched by Waukegan in 1963 and 1968.

The Warriors are almost certain to extend one of the state records which they hold: most state tourneys scored in, 31. They missed scoring only once.

They also hope to move up in all-time state tourney points. Their 30 is sixth behind Maywood Proviso East, 606, Waukegan 543, New Trier of Wheeling 417, Chicago Tilden Tech 415 and Champaign Central, 380.

Sanford Quintet in Conference Tourney

Sanford-Brown's cagers will open the Greater St. Louis College Conference tournament at 7:30 p.m. Friday against St. Louis Christian College at the Christ Memorial Baptist Church gym in St. Louis. The season tourney will end March 7.

Also, Sanford-Brown's Indians will travel to Paducah Saturday to face West Kentucky Area College for its final regular season outing. Sanford has a 6-4 record; Guard Leorn and Macdonald has recently been a clutch scorer.

Playoffs Saturday

Youth basketball playoff semifinals and finals of the Greater St. Louis district's third through sixth graders' training program will be held Saturday from 9 a.m. through noon at the Coolidge gym.

Venice in District Semifinals Tonight

Gray, the squad's top pointmaker, hit for 38.

Fall Behind 13-3

Lebanon jumped to a 13-3 lead Tuesday before the Devils reorganized to close the first quarter trailing 18-15.

At halftime, Lebanon led 25-33 and Venice inched in front 47-45 at the end of the third quarter.

With little more than two minutes left, the defending champs were behind 59-53. Field goals by Gardner with a 15 to go and Gray 20 seconds before regulation time ended tied it at 59-59.

Doug Johnson led the overtime scoring for the victory. Doug scored 26, Gardner 25, Doug Johnson 13 and Andrei Johnson and Jim Ollendorf, four each.

Cold shooting hindered the Devils against St. Henry Prep before Mark Smith 18, Mike Harnes 14 and Dan Haber 11.

Surprisingly, the Devils, positioning themselves better, had a 45-38 rebounding edge. Gardner and Andrei Johnson each had 12 cars and Doug Johnson 11.

Scoring for Columbia in double digits against St. Henry Prep were Mark Smith 18, Mike Harnes 14 and Dan Haber 11.

Before the tourney finals, Granite City beat Edwardsville 25-18 and doubled O'Fallon 33-38.

Other entered teams were Alton, Highland, Collinsville and Belleville. In one tight game, Collinsville won over Belleville 31-21.

Professor Walter F. Coolidge spoke at the pep rally honoring the champion team held at the GCIS home gym. That gym, now Central junior high's gym, is now considered unsuitable for inter-junior high school competition because of its low ceiling.

In 1920, the low ceiling was a frustration to visiting teams. It was considered just part of the game.

Warriors Tops So Far In Conference Sports

Warriors head the race for the Southwestern Conference All-Sports award, after four loop sports seasons, with four more 1980-79 sports to go.

GCHS has 22 all-sports points, edging Belleville West's 20½ points for an uncertain hold on first place. Others: Alton 17, East St. Louis 16½, Edwardsville and Collinsville each 13 and Wood River nine.

For the lead, Granite City won the championship in wrestling, was third in cross-country and basketball and ended in a three-way tie for second in football.

Belleville West took titles in football and cross-country, tied for fourth in basketball and was fifth in wrestling.

The athletic seasons remaining are baseball, track and field, golf and tennis.

Basis of Scoring
In this inaugural year for the award, all-sports points are earned on the basis of: seven points for finishing first in the league standings of a particular sport, six points for second, five for third, etc. There are seven league schools.

Where a school does not enter a team in league competition—for example, Collinsville did not compete in conference basketball—points are deducted no points in that sport.

When a tie occurs in final standings, the tied schools equally divide the total points normally given to the places they filled. East St. Louis, Edwardsville and Granite City tied for second, third and fourth in football, for example; each received five points.

Points earned by each school—with football, basketball, cross-country and wrestling listed in that order—were as follows:

GCHS, 55-57; Belleville West, 27-27½; Alton, 34-6-2; East St. Louis, 5-3-2-6; Collinsville, 2-7-4-6; Edwardsville, 5-3-3-4; and Wood River, 1-2-1-5.

2nd Place Within MHS Reach Here Tomorrow

Madison's taggers, not a pre-season pick, finish high in the Midwest Conference standings, will bid for a second-place tie against Highland here Friday evening in the loop's final contest.

They reached contending position by outrunning and out-rebounding the Shells 98-75 at Roxana Tuesday while Triad was clinching the league crown with a late rally over Bethalto, 72-72.

Triad, Bethalto and Roxana were considered before the season to be the major powers. Bethalto, assured of at least tying for second, has twice been upset by the supposedly "non-contender" Trojans.

Roxana achieved only a 3-7 loss, beating out only Dupo's no win policy.

Highland's Bulldogs finished

"out of the money" but could spoil the Trojans' try for a share of runner-up honors.

Exactly three weeks ago Friday, MHS took 65 rebounds while the Bulldogs snared only 17 on their home hardwood. But Madison, with three minutes to go in the game, allowed a 14-point lead to dwindle to four before winning 63-56.

Highland won its latest game with Roxana by 20 points, compared to the 11-point MHS margin Tuesday.

The Trojans have stormed for four victories in their last four league fights. They Trinity Tabernacle 4-10 45 65

Second effort points from the field gave MHS a big boost, made possible by a 58-21 rebound edge. Joe "Elbows" Dozier went the distance, committing only two personal fouls and leading with 21 caroms. Tom Noel grabbed 15 from the boards.

John Ervin, with a tightly taped ankle, saw some service during mid-game.

Doug Griggs, who has five sutures in his tongue, did not play. Coach Larry Graham hopes he will be back in uniform for next Monday's regional game at the GCHS gym.

Tallying in the win were Noel and Dozier, 20 each. Gary Hagler 15, Chuck Dandridge 13, Ervin nine, Edwards Chandler and Charles Pogorelec and Phil Davis, four points each.

MORE ABOUT

room immediately after school, with a drug addict from this area present to make a brief talk and to answer questions. The questions and answers prepared for the in-service training follow:

Some Students Involved

Q: How severe is the drug problem in Granite City?
A: Nobody knows. It would take an extensive budget and a study lasting several years to give an answer. We do know that there are drug addicts in our city and that there has been drug abuse on the part of some of our students.

We know that the drug traffic is greater in some of our neighboring communities and that abuse is more frequent in some others... but this doesn't mean that we can ignore the problem.

Drug use is no longer confined to the ghetto areas as it was a few years ago. It is spreading into all areas of society at an alarming rate. Our relative position is unknown.

Q: What is the difference between a drug addict and a drug abuser?

A: Degree: An addict has given himself up to drugs. He is psychologically and physically dependent upon drugs. He takes drugs to live and lives to take drugs.

An abuser of drugs is an occasional user. He takes drugs on weekends for "kicks" or a day or two per week to escape from his routine. He is a user of the less expensive and more easily-acquired drugs, such as marijuana, amphetamines or barbiturates.

Not all abusers of drugs become addicts. Some simply don't graduate to the stronger heroin, cocaine, morphine, etc. But nearly all addicts began as abusers.

Users Hard To Detect

Q: How can I detect a drug user?

A: For all practical purposes, you can't. Different drugs cause different reactions among different people.

The type of drug used, the quantity taken, the induction method and the previous experience of the user are only a few of the many variables which prevent accurate detection.

It is true that many drugs cause the eyes to dilate, but drugs are not the only cause of eye dilation.

It is true that many drugs cause the symptoms of a head cold. Here again, red eyes, running nose, halitosis, etc., are often caused by some thing other than drugs.

Q: Why do these "kids" take drugs?

A: There is no single answer. Individuals are unique and it is difficult to put all drug users into any category... let alone a single category pertaining to cause.

Seek Escape From Anxiety
Most of the research indicates that there is a strong desire for escape among all users. However, non-users have a desire to escape also.

A recent pamphlet published by Kiwanis International states: "We all engage at times in 'escape' and much escape is quite justifiable."

"We watch movies at times to escape boredom. We escape drowning when we wear a life jacket while water skiing. Most of us use prescribed drugs for escape."

Many "kids" take drugs to escape the reality which is as painful for them psychologically as surgery is physiologically. The danger occurs in the escape technique that becomes a pattern of life.

Obviously, learning how to face tensions, anxieties, etc., not how to escape from it—is important.

Teenagers say that other teenagers get started on drugs because of (1) escape; (2) pleasure; (3) curiosity; (4) rebellion.

More Are Experimenting
Q: We've always had drug addicts; why the sudden concern?

A: There are more and more potential addicts. Abuse of drugs is increasing and has become widespread among young people.

Increased experimentation leads to an increase in the number of addicts, and there is little doubt that young people are experimenting at an ever-increasing rate.

Q: Do we have any hard-core addicts in our school?

A: If by hard-core addicts you mean those who use heroin or opium-derived drugs, the answer is probably "No."

It is hard to conceive of a student remaining in school while having to support a $50 to $100 per day habit. An addict such as this usually spends several hours stealing, prostituting, etc., and the remainder of the day quite "high."

Primary Concerns
We should be primarily concerned with LSD, marijuana, pills, glue sniffing, etc., and the conditions that brought the student to their use.

Q: Is there any truth to this business of people getting high on peanut butter or smoking of banana peels?

A: Yes... but a psychological high. There is nothing chemically in these items that cause a real "high."

They are so convinced that they will get high from using these items that they do get high.

It is like a hypochondriac. He is so convinced that he is sick

... that he in fact is sick.

Counseling Procedure
Q: What do we teachers do if we suspect a student is using drugs?

A: Stop by the guidance office and talk with a counselor. After revealing the student's name and your analysis of the situation, the counselors will "check it out" and most likely talk with the student.

If your suspicions are confirmed, the student will receive extensive counseling and perhaps referral to the local Co-ordinated Youth or Mental Health Clinic. Unfortunately, there is little else that anyone can do.

Q: What does society do with its convicted drug users?

"We watch movies at times to escape boredom. We escape drowning when we wear a life jacket while water skiing. Most of us use prescribed drugs for escape."

Prison Awaits Many

A Very little. Usually a drug addict is eventually sent to prison for burglary, armed robbery, prostitution, etc., because he is caught trying to get money for drug purchases. In prison, the addict overcomes his physiological addiction; he vomits, has cramps, diarrhea, hot and cold flashes with temperature nearly 100 degrees.

He has convulsions which include kicking and is said to be "kicking the habit."

He has large "goose bumps" like a dressed fool over his body and it is said to be "going cold turkey."

Few addicts "kick the habit" via "cold turkey." The withdrawal pains are so severe that it is nearly impossible to endure voluntarily.

After withdrawal symptoms which last from three to ten days, the addict is no longer physiologically dependent on drugs... but he is still psychologically addicted.

The mental cause of his addiction is present and, while Alcoholics Anonymous but are usually less effective.

"lesser drugs" to satisfy his need for mental escape.

There are few voluntary organizations for drug addicts. These operate somewhat like Alcoholics Anonymous but are usually less effective.

Joint Investigation of Levee District Planned

A joint investigation into operations of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District—including alleged questionable attorney fees, contracts and financial activities—is planned by the states attorneys' offices of Madison and St. Clair counties, it was announced yesterday by the office of Madison County State's Attorney R. W. Griffith.

Under the plan, it was reported, the state's attorney's office in each county will approach the investigation separately since Madison county may have interests different than those in St. Clair county. The dual investigation will remove any question of jurisdiction in the event matters develop that require grand jury consideration.

Marshall Smith, Madison county assistant state's attorney, said he became interested in an investigation into levee district matters after receiving recent complaints from Granite City attorneys. He said he conferred with Robert Rice, state's attorney of St. Clair county, who at the same time had been considering a grand jury probe into levee district matters on the basis of complaints he had received concerning possible conflicts of interest in contracts let by the levee district to an unregistered firm that failed to post performance bonds.

Officials to Meet
As a result, Smith told the Press-Record, he and Rice expect to meet within the next week or ten days to discuss possible grand jury presentations.

Smith said his office should determine within two or three weeks whether there is enough evidence to present to a grand jury in this county.

Machine Harvesting Of Vegetables

Harvest of vegetables by machine continues to increase as engineers are able to design machines to do the job and as growers figure out ways to make the machines pay.

Vegetable growers at a recent two-day school in Collinsville heard several speakers discuss harvesting vegetables by machine.

You can buy a pickle harvester for $19,885. "And we still have a few problems with the machine," admitted C. He-comovich, sales representative for the company that makes it. The first such machines were made in 1966.

A sum of $21,000 is what it takes to buy a two-row sweet corn harvester. There are 28 such machines now in operation in the United States and Canada. A minimum of 200 acres of sweet corn is required to justify buying the machine.

Tomato harvesters, of which there are only six in operation, cost $27,000 each. They harvest tomatoes for processing. No one has yet made a machine to harvest fresh-market tomatoes.

Pea picking machines are in good. They pick up pea vines from windrows and deliver hulled peas from the machine. There are 3000 machines in use in the world. Cost is $17,000 for machines used on level ground, self leveling machines require $20,000 on hilly ground cost $27,000 each.

Horseradish Harvester

Victor Eckmann of Collinsville worked with Charles Taylor, Canton, Ill., last year in making a horseradish harvesting machine. They used it to harvest a small acreage of horseradish. They believe advantages the machine has over present hand-harvest methods include lower harvest cost per ton of horseradish smaller crew to manage and pay, less harvest loss, and less time required to complete the harvest. They estimate the machine will cost $10,000 if several are made.

"Plant breeders are keeping in mind that vegetable crops of the future will be harvested mechanically," said H. H. Harris, Seed Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Joe Vandemark, University of Illinois vegetable crop specialist, said we can expect the direct-seeded system of planting asparagus to come in along with mechanical harvesting of asparagus.

Referring to specialty foods like pickled miniature corn ears, pickling onions, and miniature carrots, Vandemark said, "We need to realize that the better things of life are going to be mechanized, if we are going to live it."

High Muncie, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association, spoke to the vegetable growers on the topic, "The New Business Consumer."

"We, as retailers, are presenting to the consumer those things you are producing," Muncie said. "So the production of agricultural products and their distribution are closely interrelated."

"The retailer presents to the consumer what she wants to buy," he said. There is no loyalty to a product any more, if, indeed, there ever was.

Muncie said this is an exciting time, because so much that is new is confusing to us. The youth market is growing. "Is the youth group included in your production and marketing program?" he asked.

"Turn loose some nutritionists and home economists on packaging problems and research for the consumer," he advised. "What does the young home-maker know about horseradish and what's wrong with telling the restaurant people about the

The Garden Corner

Buying Fruit Trees

The choice of nursery stock is important to the home gardener as is the commercial grower. Quality nursery stock is healthy, has a good root system, is handled carefully to avoid breaking and stuffing, and is stored and shipped without drying out or freezing. Cheap plants are often a poor investment. They may be poorly grown, weak, partially dried out, or not true-to-name.

Many nurseries guarantee to replace trees which do not survive transplanting or which are not true-to-name. This usually amounts to only partial satisfaction because of the loss in time and labor involved. The state certificate of nursery inspection is an assurance of healthy plants. When available, virus-free plants should be purchased. Such plants are superior and are worth the small extra cost. Nursery from a non-registered grower or from a neighbor's planting may be of the potential insect and disease infestation.

Gardening An Art Or A Science?
Much has been said and written in the past few years about "scientific gardening." There is danger that the uniformed person believes that farming and gardening are sciences. While important advances have been made in plant production through the work of scientists, gardening is essentially an art, not a science.

Gardening success can be aided greatly by an understanding of many facts brought to light extra ring and zest the horseradish adds to a meal?" he asked. "The matter how much you sell to a processor or retailer, that product has not been sold until it is bought by a consumer and used. Boldly tell the story of what you have to offer," Muncie concluded.

Higher Timber Prices
Farmers who have timber for sale this year can expect higher prices than a year ago. Statewide averages for saw-timber, both stumpage and logs delivered to the mill, generally average $2 to $4 per thousand board feet higher than a year earlier.

The most common prices paid for timber are listed in a recent survey report by the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. Copies of the report are available at the county Extension office.

Examples of average stumpage prices are: white oak, $32 per thousand; red oak, $22; black oak, $19; pin oak, $14; hickory, $15 ash, $22; basswood, $19; soft maple, $27; elm and hickory, $17; cottonwood, $16; sycamore, $16; and black walnut, $8. Black walnut of face veneer quality sells as sawpulp for $300 to $750 per thousand board feet.

The price you get depends on accessibility to roads, levelness of the area, distance to market size of the sale, and especially the size and quality of logs to be cut. Check with several buyers before selling to get the best price.

Every six months, the Crop Reporting Service summarizes price reports from a selected group of Illinois timber buyers. The reports are available in March and October each year.

Diversifying on Farms
A couple of decades ago we on the farm were saying, "Don't put all your eggs in one basket." That implied a hedge against risks by diversifying the farm business.

In recent years we tend to say, "Put all your eggs in one basket and take good care of that basket." Specialization has brought about large-scale operations requiring larger amounts of capital and know-how invested by an individual farmer in fewer farm enterprises.

Cooking for One A Small Feast

Cooking for one person can be as much of a problem as cooking for a large family.

Cooking for a large family drains your budget and your energy. But if you live alone, you may find you aren't fixing many of the foods you enjoy. Or, there's always too much left over. You can solve your problem. If you have freer space, try making your own frozen dinners.

Roast a good-sized cut of meat. Make some gravy and mash potatoes. Prepare your favorite vegetable with special seasoning. When your feast is ready, put a serving of each food into a sectional foil tray. Meat, potatoes and vegetable—a tempting meal from the freezer. Meat freezes better if you put some gravy on it. Cover the tray with foil. Then label the package and freeze it promptly.

The frozen dinners will give you variety in your meals and save you work. And you'll always be prepared for an unexpected guest or two. It's just as easy to heat three dinners as to heat one.

All you do to bring them to serving temperatures is to put them in a 425 degree oven for about 20 minutes. Leave the foil cover on while heating. All kinds of meat in gravy freeze and reheat well. So do mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes, peas, corn and most other vegetables.

Arranging Furniture
Since the modern home must accommodate a variety of family activities, homemakers should keep this fact in mind when choosing and arranging furniture.

In former years, interior designers planned arrangements in a room on the basis of an art principles of balance, proportion, and so on. Today, functional planning emphasizes comfort and convenience.

Group furniture into activity areas, such as study, conversation and recreation. To help you decide on a satisfactory arrangement, note how the furniture has been moved for various occasions or games when you have guests.

Interior designers find city-centered arrangements are acceptable as a high standard of design. In addition, such arrangements use more space than do parallel-to-wall arrangements.

Where door and window placement makes furniture arrangement difficult, you may find it necessary to partially overlap an opening with a long piece of furniture. However, if the room is large, the piano, sofa or head of a bed may be placed several feet from the wall and parallel to it, leaving the opening accessible.

In small rooms, you can achieve a spacious effect by limiting furnishings to items that are really needed and that are moderately small in size and scale. Reflecting materials, such as mirrors, glass and metals also help create an illusion of space.

Furniture arrangements help determine room atmosphere. Experiment with different arrangements until you get a setting that looks pleasing and inviting.

Wrought Iron Used In Indoor Settings
Time was when wrought iron furniture was limited to the patio. But interior designers today suggest wrought iron for a variety of indoor settings, particularly dining areas.

Wrought iron furniture takes little care. An occasional washing with warm water keeps it clean.

To preserve the finish, apply a coat of automotive wax once a year. Touch-up paint jobs on chipped or scraped spots protect breaks from rust.

Commendation Medal For T/Sgt. Henderson

T/Sgt. Donald O. Henderson, whose wife, Patricia, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Golden, 3722 Summit drive, received the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand, recently.

An electrical power technician, he was decorated for meritorious service while assigned to an Air Force unit in Port Austin, Mich. He now serves at Korat with a unit of the Air Force Communications Service which provides global communications and air traffic control for the USAF.

We are again reminded by the Illinois Department of Agriculture that skunks are dangerous animals to maintain as household pets. Seven positive cases of rabies were reported in Illinois during October. All seven cases were in skunks. One case was in Madison County.

Rabies is endemic in skunks throughout the Midwest. By nature, skunks are nocturnal and

Reynolds Finance Head For Sen. Smith Group

Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds Jr. of Winnetka was appointed finance chairman of the Illinois Citizens for U. S. Senator Ralph Tyler Smith (R, Ill.) Monday.

W. Clement Stone, chairman of the citizen group, said Reynolds will be in charge of all fundraising activities during the campaign. Reynolds is a member of the State of Illinois Building Authority, the Board of Advisors to Gov. Ogilvie, the Law and Legal Clubs of Chicago and the American, Chicago and Illinois Bar Associations.

He is a director of the Combined Communications Corporation, the State Automobile Insurance Association and a number of other companies. He is also chairman of the executive committee of the Atlanta Braves, Inc., and a director of the Allendale School for Boys, the Brain Research Foundation, Catholic Charities of Chicago, the Maternity Center and the Western Golf Association.

Reynolds is a graduate of Georgetown University and the University of Michigan Law School. He is married to the former Suzanne Fitzsimon of Detroit; they have nine children aged six to 17 years.

On Monday evening, Sen. Smith introduced U. S. Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee at the Creve Coeur club's Washington Day dinner in St. Louis. On Tuesday and Wednesday, Smith was in Washington.

State Taking Orders For Seedling Trees

Orders for forest tree seedlings will be accepted by the Illinois Division of Forestry until April 17. Some species are already sold out, but most popular varieties are still available.

Seedlings cost one to two cents each in lots of 1000. The minimum order is 500 seedlings of any one species. Many tracts of land in Madison county have ideal sites for growing trees for forest products, Christmas trees, and soil erosion control. The trees may also be used for ornamental or landscaping purposes.

As a rule of thumb, plant on 1000 trees for each acre to be planted. One man can plant about 500 trees a day by hand. Most species of evergreen trees grow about one foot in height each year. Price lists and order blanks are available at the office of Warren W. Bundy, Madison county extension advisor at 900 Hillside avenue in Edwardsville.

Frohardt PTA Drama Club to Meet Tonight

The Star-Finders Drama Club, sponsored by Frohardt school PTA, will meet at 7 p.m. today at the school in preparation for their next presentation set for April.

A school club open to all Frohardt school students from the fifth through eighth grade, is under the direction of William Snelkovic, sixth grade language and arts teacher, at Frohardt.

Principal roles will be assigned tonight to both adults and children, on a first come, first serve basis.

The wish of the organization is to increase membership participation with more parents attending. Those who do not wish to take part in the play are needed in make-up, scenery or costume departments.

Parents are urged to provide transportation for students if they are unable to attend with their child.

Open House at DePaul

The DePaul Hospital School of Nursing will hold open house for students, parents and counselors on Sunday, Feb. 28, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the school, 5050 Highland avenue, St. Louis. The program will feature discussions about nursing careers and tours. Refreshments will be served.

Music Festival Judges

Choirs from seven southern Illinois Baptist churches will participate today in an adult music festival at the First Baptist Church of West Frankfort. Judges will include Raymond Voorhees of Granite City high school and David Richardson of the Third Baptist Church of Granite City.

Driver in Crash Charged

Jerry Deen, 22, of 4303 Highway 102 was charged with a right-of-way violation following a two-car accident Tuesday afternoon when he was driving off a lot at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues. The driver of the southbound auto on Madison avenue was Richard Latham, 2420a Delmar avenue.

Parents of Hard of Hearing Pupils Confer

Steve Gargac of Granite City conducted a meeting of the Bi-County Parents Group of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children Tuesday night at the Union school, Belleville. Reports were given by Mrs. Gail Gargac and Mrs. Jay Dietrich.

Mrs. Sandy Grote reported on a meeting in Benton by Planning Region Nine on state plans for oral deaf education in this area.

It was noted that a camera has been donated to oral deaf classes in Roxana and that supplies are being made available by the Alton-Roxana area drug stores. Charles Dietrich, ways and means chairman, distributed bond sale tickets for the current fund project.

Payments for classroom materials and books were approved. A guest was John Collier of Wood River, director of special education in Region III.

Plans were discussed for a summer school program, with parents advised to contact their school boards and special education directors for assistance in establishing it.

An audiological testing facility at SIU-SW is available to children in the program. Mrs. Gail Grote and Mrs. Sandy Grote made the arrangements. Audiological evaluation is required every two years.

Coffee and cake were served and an informal roundtable discussion was held with parents of children attending the Illinois School for the Deaf in Jacksonville.

Next meeting will be March 24 at the Belleville school. Dr. Leach of the Department of Otolaryngology at St. Louis University will be the speaker. Interested parents may attend.

Car Owner Catches Youths After Chase

Two youths attempting to ram-sack an auto parked Tuesday evening at Coolidge junior high school parking lot were chased through a nearby shopping center by the car owner who caught the pair and turned them over to police.

David Rosenberg, 2264 Cleveland Blvd., said entry into the parked auto was gained by breaking a vent window with the base plate of a bumper jack, taken from a truck parked nearby. An attempt to remove a stereo unit from the car was foiled when the owner returned and the boys fled.

One of the youths reportedly had three stereo tapes belonging to Rosenberg in his possession when apprehended. The pair was turned over to juvenile authorities. A deep cut in the vehicle's front seat also resulted from the forced entry, the owner said.

A plate dinner, including tacos, Spanish rice and French fries, will cost 60 cents. Individual meat tacos will cost 30 cents and bean tacos, 25 cents. Members of the Kirkpatrick association will prepare and cook the food, Mrs. Kramer said.

Student Living Policy Upheld by Trustees

The Southern Illinois University board of trustees has declined to review a decision by Chancellor Robert MacVicar which concerned co-educational study hours in student living centers at the Carbondale Campus.

Chancellor MacVicar at Carbondale rejected a proposal from the campus student government to establish study periods in which members of the opposite sex could be present in student living quarters.

The chancellor instead proposed a survey to re-examine the university's present policy, and to accept some of the desirable objectives asked by student government, and eliminate those the university felt were undesirable.

The student senate rejected the chancellor's compromise and appealed to the board of trustees.

In declining to consider the appeal the trustees said: "It is the recommendation of the board that each chancellor on his respective campus develop within the existing open house policy, specific guidelines for the more adequate use of the public, semi-public and private spaces within the various units."

"It is understood and affirmed that the current policy requires that such visitation be conducted under appropriate supervision and that the doors of all private spaces be fully opened during the use of such spaces by members of both sexes."

Trustees Set Policy On Use of Campuses

Policies affecting the use of university property for purposes of fund-raising, canvassing, soliciting, vending and allied advertising have been adopted by the Southern Illinois University board of trustees.

The policies are effective at once and are a supplement to the document, "Policies Governing the Use of University Property for Scheduled Events and Meetings," which went into effect in September 1967.

The key paragraph states that "Fund raisers, canvassers, solicitors, vendors and agents are forbidden to pursue their occupations on any property owned or controlled by the university except on official university business or in accordance with policies to except certain educational, cultural and service activities." It is then directed that regulations in accordance with the expressed policies be developed by appropriate university officials.

Six Win DAR 'Good Citizenship' Awards

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter DAR presented six Quad-City high school students with Good Citizenship Awards, this week at a tea in Wesley Hall of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, and for the first time included boys in the award presentation.

Recipients and their parents who attended as special guests were Barbara Azari and Michael Loftus from Granite City high school and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Azari Jr. and Mrs. Norma Loftus Powell; Janis Stewart and Charles Pogorelec from Madison high school and parents, Mrs. Elsie Stewart and Mrs. Steve Pogorelec; and Gloria Gardner and William Young from Venice high school and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young.

Three boys and three girls were selected by the student body at each of the high schools and their names were given to the faculty who in turn selected one boy and one girl for the award.

Selection of nominees are based on four requirements—dependability, service, patriotism and leadership.

Prior to the presentation, Mrs. Ruth McCarty gave a short talk stressing patriotism and good citizenship. Mrs. Eva Meier officially made the award presentation to the students.

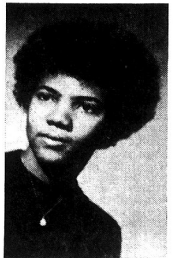

A program for the afternoon was given by Mrs. John Tate, who read a poem entitled, "Life," and gave a piano solo of several patriotic songs. The tea, given annually on a date near George Washington's birthday, uses a patriotic theme for table decorations. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Daisy Reva Turner and Miss Ella Ray Smith.

After a social hour, a short business meeting was conducted by the Regent, Mrs. Gladys Chapman.

Fall Term Openings Still Available at SIU

Admissions applications from junior college and other transfer students are up 60% over last year, but fall-term openings are still available at Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus.

Admissions Director Jerre Pfaff said junior college students with at least a "C" average and otherwise in good academic standing can apply for admission a term before their expected graduation date by submitting partial transcripts.

Incomplete transcripts will not be accepted, however, from transfers with sub-"C" averages or on academic probation. Transfer candidates must submit a formal application and official transcript forms. Students with less than a year of full-time college work must submit ACT scores and two point average of 3.0 or better on at least 12 semester hours.

Circuit Court Upholds Driver Education Act

A circuit court ruling in Cook county upholding the constitutionality of the Illinois Driver Education Act of 1967 was described today by Secretary of State Paul Powell as another "important safeguard against double standards constantly encroaching upon our society."

The ruling handed down by Judge John Lupe forbids commercial driver training schools to provide instruction to students under 18 by personnel who do not have a college degree and possess a teacher's certificate issued by Supt. of Public Instruction Ray Page.

Powell maintained throughout the litigation, in which a Chicago driving school brought suit naming him and Page as co-defendants, that only by insisting upon a single, high standard of instruction to youth can there be hope for safer highways in the future.

National Music Festival Scheduled for SIU-SW

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern has been named one of six sites for the regional competition of the national Intercollegiate Music Festival.

The two-day program, featuring 16 folk and pop groups, is slated for April 18 and 19 in the Meridian ballroom of the University Center. Winners from the regional will compete in the national finals, also to be held here. Aug. 13 to 15 are the dates for the nationals at the Mississippi River Festival site.

Other regional winners will come from competition staged at the University of South Florida, University of Texas, University of Colorado, UCLA and Villanova University.

Larry Gilbert, a radio-TV major, is directing the regional show. Eight groups will perform at a 2 p.m. session April 18 and the other eight groups will compete in the 8 p.m. session that same day. From these two sessions three regional judges will select three groups of pop artists and folk artists to compete in the finals at 8 p.m. April 19.

Judges for regional will be Jim Bolen, St. Louis weather reporter, Dave Allen, a television executive producer, and vocalist Gale Garnett of Canada.

Tickets for each session will be $1 per person and can be purchased at the information desk in the University Center after April 1 or at the door. The public is welcome to all sessions.

Johns-Manville Co. Aids Blackburn College

Johns-Manville Products Corp. has awarded a $200 unrestricted grant to Blackburn College as part of the company's program of financial aid to non-tax-supported colleges.

Since 1955, Johns-Manville has been helping support selected colleges in the belief that such support assures continued sources of leadership for the company, and with the conviction that the continued independence of privately supported colleges and universities must be maintained.

M. R. Buyer, plant manager for Johns-Manville in Venice, visited the Blackburn campus to present the company's check. Dr. M. Alan Brown, Dean of the college, accepted for Blackburn.

New Student Loan Fund Established at SIU-SW

A student loan fund has been established at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, in honor of the late Joe Richard Small, associate professor of accounting from 1958 until his death last April 7, 1969.

Gifts from faculty friends and former associates of Prof. Small have provided funds for long-time, interest-free loans to worthy juniors and seniors majoring in accounting.

Initial selection of recipients will be made by a committee appointed by Irwin Jaroch, chairman of the accounting faculty. The committee will forward the names to the director of student work and financial assistance for approval and administration.

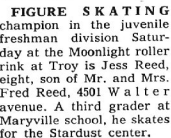

FIGURE SKATING champion in the juvenile freshman division Saturday at Troy is Jess Reed, eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reed, 4501 W. 11th Avenue. A third grader at Maryville school, he skates for the Stardust center.

Parents, as well as college students, need to know the purposes of an education, how the university operates, and the pressures which affect the lives of their college sons and daughters.

This conclusion was drawn by Thomas D. Evans, assistant dean of students at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, in a random sampling of 200 juniors and their parents during the academic years 1966-67 and 1967-68.

Evans' report, "Parent and Student Perceptions of a Commuter Campus," appears in the current issue of the Journal of the Association of Deans and Administrators of Student Affairs.

Previous studies, Evans points out, indicate that commuter students, living at home, are significantly influenced by their parents. "The commuter student often finds himself in a dilemma: he is expected as a college student to be independent and self-directed, but his parents often encourage or demand continued dependence on the family. This may be especially true of first generation college students."

"Both students and parents view the SIU-SW environment in a positive way," the assistant dean said. Both agree that the most important thing is graduation from college and that the main reason for attending college is to secure a good job.

"The parents perceive SIU-SW as fulfilling the expectations of their sons and daughters," Evans says. "This perception is logical, from the parents' view, but is not shared by the students. Proximity of the university to their homes and the perceived economy of the commuter college appeals to the parents' pocketbooks. It also permits their children to remain at home longer than normally expected."

Evans said that while the students and parents professed to communicate effectively, particularly the first few years, their communication about the university leaves much to be desired. This decision, he adds, is supported by the findings which show that students view the operation of the university and student life in a significantly different way than their parents."

Although there is a tendency for students to be critical of the administration, most of them respect the administrators. They perceive students as having a voice in developing regulations and policies that affect those in attendance. They also feel that rules regulating their behavior are enforced fairly, according to the study. When students do violate rules, they believe they are disciplined with fairness.

Evans says the Student Affairs Office will use the data obtained to develop its student personnel program and to initiate broader and more effective parent-student-university relations.

2 Local Students Named For Elks State Contest

Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 this week announced the names of two local high school seniors who have been selected to represent the Quad-City area in the state-wide Illinois Elks "Most Valuable Student" scholarship awards program.

Chosen on the basis of outstanding academic merit were Miss Paula Sue Broadway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Broadway, 1002 Grand avenue, Madison, and Richard Kenneth Cardwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Cardwell 3263 Edgewood drive.

George M. Gordon, Lodge 1063 youth activities chairman, said the students were offered only to students of outstanding merit who have shown appreciation of the value of an education and a willingness to struggle to achieve success.

A scholarship rating of 90% or better and a relative standing in the upper 5% of their class, generally qualify the applicants given final consideration, he explained.

Students from all three local high schools were eligible to participate in the Elks scholarship awards program, which officially closed to applicants on Feb. 14.

From candidates chosen to compete at the state level, including Miss Broadway and Cardwell, a total of 21 boys and girls will be allocated individual awards of $600 each, Gordon explained.

In addition, the 21 state winners will qualify to compete for the Elks National "Most Valuable Student Awards," ranging in amounts from $600 to $2500 scholarships per student.

The local youth activities chairman noted that successful students at the national awards level automatically vacate the $600 state award, which is then assigned to a student on an alternate winners list selected by the Elks State Scholarship Committee.

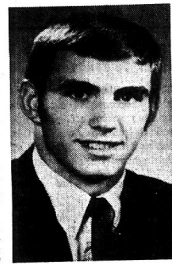

This year, Gordon said, any of the original 21 state award winners who do not win national scholarship awards will be presented an additional $100 special award, but no recognition of their nomination for the nationwide judging contest. Therefore, all state finalists will receive at least $700 in awards, he added.

Harold Karlstrom, chairman of Illinois Elks, has announced the state Elks Association will present 11 scholarships for $500 each and 11 for $400 each to students ranking immediately below the top winners.

A senior at Madison high school, Miss Broadway is planning to enroll this fall in a nurses training program at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Cardwell, a mathematics major at Granite City high school, is hoping to continue his studies in the field of mathematics at one of the country's leading universities. He was recently named second place state winner in a "Youth Leadership Contest," sponsored by the local Illinois Elks organizations.

Gordon said that both boys and girls, rated national winners in the "Most Valuable Student" competition, will receive: First place — $2500; second place — $2250; third place — $2000; fourth place — $1750.

RICHARD CARDWELL

and fifth place — $1500.

Additionally, ten awards of $1000 each, 25 awards amounting to $200 each and 60 prizes of $600 each will be presented national finalists. Identical awards are allocated both boys and girls at the national level, the chairman said.

Gordon pointed out that contributions donated by individual local, state and national Elks members to the Elks National Foundation enables the scholarship awards program to become a reality each year, permitting outstanding youth to continue their education at the college level.

Serving on the local scholarship selection committee this year were Acting Exalted Ruler David Wittsell, William Russell, a past exalted ruler; Robert Crain, Leading Knight; and Al Barnes Jr., who serves as Lodge 1063 publicity chairman.

Runner-Up Honor For Cardwell in State Contest

Richard Kenneth Cardwell, a Granite City high school senior, recently was selected state runner-up in the 1970 Illinois Elks "Leadership Contest," it was announced this week by George M. Gordon, youth activities chairman for Granite City Elks Lodge 1063.

The youth, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cardwell, 3263 Edgewood avenue, will receive $200 in U. S. Savings bonds for his second place win.

Earlier this year, the GCHS mathematics major was declared first place winner in the local and Southwest District Elks leadership contest. He was presented a $50 bond by the Granite City Elks lodge and a $100 savings bond to mark his achievement at the district level.

Local Elks members were advised by John Mimerick, state leadership contest chairman, that only one point separated the Granite City candidate from the first place state winner. "We are very proud of our representative," Gordon said.

The basis for selecting the outstanding youth leaders for the local, district, state and national contests include leadership, Americanism and citizenship appreciation, perseverance, resourcefulness and sense of honor, neatness and arrangement of personal brochure and compliance with instructions.

The "Leadership Contest," once sponsored annually by Lodge 1063, but discontinued several years ago, was revived this year as a service to "the outstanding youth in our community," Gordon explained.

The Cardwell youth also was named this week as candidate in an Elks scholarship awards program, details of which are given in another story.

SIU Analyzes Enrollments By Counties

The number of Cook county students attending Southern Illinois University has jumped 10 times in 10 years and the influx from all far-north counties has been almost as heavy, it was reported this week.

A county-by-county enrollment breakdown for the 1969 fall term contrasts markedly with the same map of 1959.

Of 11,394 students enrolled at all SIU campuses 10 years ago, no more than 600 were from Illinois' most heavily populated county and fewer than 400 came from the other 22 northernmost counties.

Today, SIU counts 6250 students from Cook and 3300 from its neighbors above Interstate Route 80.

The development in the 60's of SIU's new southwestern campus in the state's second largest population area also shows strongly in the comparison.

Total SIU enrollment from Madison-St. Clair counties was recorded at 3652 in 1959. It is above 9400 now.

In comparison, then "Number One" Jackson county, home of SIU at Carbondale, has fallen to fourth in the rankings, despite having climbed from 943 to 2881 in numbers of students represented.

Some northern counties have made showings stronger even than Cook's. Will is up from 21 students in 1959 to 334 in 1969, and Kane went from 26 to 329 in the same decade.

Total resident enrollment for SIU in the fall quarter was 35,154. It is the nation's 17th largest school in full-time students.

Parent-Teacher-Student Action Urged by PTA

"We are witnesses to an unprecedented revolt of youth—a revolt that is almost worldwide," says Mrs. Leon S. Price, national PTA president, in the current issue of The PTA Magazine.

Reminding the PTA's ten million members that February is the month in which local units across the nation observe the founding of the parent-teacher organization, Mrs. Price recalls PTA responsibilities "that are as relevant today as they were 73 years ago when the national congress came into being."

Among the leading protesters of their time, Alice McLeellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst brought a group of people together on Feb. 17, 1897, in Washington, D.C.

Peaceful Protest

A small but influential group, they joined forces to protest conditions which have a painfully current ring—poverty, hunger, disease, illiteracy and inequality of opportunity.

This protest, though unmarked by noise or violence, became one of the most successful efforts of all time. Not only were children freed from child labor and other forms of exploitation and oppression, but there was a beginning of an awareness of children's needs.

Receives $30,240 Grant

The New Experimental Teacher Education Program (NETEP) at Southern Illinois University—Southwestern, has received a $30,240 federal grant to extend its program through the 1970 summer session.

and an understanding of individual differences.

Mrs. Price points to the 1960s as a decade of both the revolt of youth and of slackening adult authority and responsibility. She says that many of youth's grievances are justified—that many adults have failed to discharge their responsibilities.

"But it's too easy to blame the generation gap," she points out. Mrs. Price says there has always been a gap between youth and adults, with youth always striving to "do their own thing."

Bridge Gap—Real or Imagined? The National PTA believes that now is the time to draw the young across real or imaginary gaps to join adults in the common endeavor for the common good.

"If we elicit youth's help in changing what is 'not what ought to be,' then we can move beyond alienation and confrontation into the cooperative making of a vision of what ought to be, and into the cooperative action to bring it about," she says.

Through such an effort, Mrs. Price believes, the parent-teacher movement can become a parent-teacher-student movement... and the consequences can be historic."

Mrs. Youngs is head of the business department of Mt. Carmel high school.

Proficiency Exams Save Taxpayers Money

A saving to the taxpayers of more than $120,000 was achieved by Southern Illinois University last year "by not teaching students what they already know," according to Carbondale Campus Chancellor Robert W. MacVicar.

The process in known as proficiency examinations—a plan of allowing a student to take an examination in a subject he already knows, and, if he passes, allowing him to receive credit in a comparable required University course without attending class.

A report to MacVicar from Registrar Robert A. McGrath shows that during 1969 students earned a total of 492 course credits in this way. "Assuming these 492 credited courses to average 3 1/2 quarter hours of credit, this amounts to some 17,332 quarter hours earned during this one year," McGrath said.

Cost-conscious Chancellor MacVicar took round figures and quickly totaled the mathematics: 5000 courses times a minimum of 3 1/2 quarter hours each equals 15,000 credit hours, 15,000 times $8 (estimated faculty salary cost per credit hour) equals $120,000. Cost of administering the exams is minimal.

Female Lead for Norma Mendoza

St. Louis Guest Star in 'Guys & Dolls' Role

Raymond Peradotti of St. Louis, a familiar face to Granite City audiences after several appearances here at charitable functions, will appear as "guest star" in the East Bank Player's initial production of "Guys and Dolls," to be staged April 3 and 4.

The St. Louis singer-actor will play the lead role of Sky Masterson, the "highest player of them all," opposite Mrs. Norma Mendoza of Granite City, who leads the female performers as Sarah Brown of the "Save-a-Soul Mission."

One of the most popular musical comedies, "Guys and Dolls" is a tale of Broadway life, based on characters created by Damon Runyon, with music by Frank Loesser. The two performances will be given Friday and Saturday, April 3-4, at the Granite City Elks Club ballroom.

Mrs. Milli Hoelscher, producer-director of the East Bank Players first public offering, said today that Peradotti is donating his services to the newly-formed community theater group "to help us get started and encourage musical theater in the Quad-Cities."

Currently appearing at the Wreck Bar in the Clayton Inn, Peradotti took part in the Variety Club's St. Valentine's Day "Telethon," along with other well-known entertainers—an event which topped its $20,000 goal to benefit handicapped children.

He has performed at the Renaissance Room, St. Edward's in Gaslight Square, Bustles and Bows and other supper clubs. He has appeared on the Charlotte Peters television show and at various intervals on the "Tonight in St. Louis" program.

Peradotti has not confined his talents to club appearances. In Grand Opera, he sang with the August Opera Festival in St. Louis and has portrayed leading roles in musical comedy, including Emile in "South Pacific," Billy in "Carousel" and the King in "The King and I."

His appearances in Granite City have included fashion shows for the Business and Professional Women's Club, at the regional convention of Eta Chapter, Phi Tau Omega Society, and a kickoff dinner for the Tri-Cities United Fund campaign.

As the romantic leading lady opposite Peradotti, Mrs. Mendoza will be featured in such duets as "I'll Know When My Love Comes Along" and "I've Never Been in Love Before."

The wife of Ruben Mendoza, well-known local soccer star, and the mother of five children, Mrs. Mendoza is active in projects sponsored by the Mexican

The new theatre group will perform "in the round," permitting beverages and snacks to be served from the Elks Club before and during the performance.

Other popular songs to be featured in the show, are "Love is a Lady Tonight," "I Love You a Bushel and a Peck" and "The Oldest Established Floating Card Game."

Elks members have offered the building for rehearsals and also the second floor ballroom area for the two-night show to help promote cultural events in the local community.

Return of Glaucoma Test Unit Here being Arranged

Arrangements are being made by the Madison Lions Club for a return visit here of a mobile testing unit for glaucoma of the eye.

The unit was here recently at the Schermer Bros. Market parking lot.

Operated by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness (ISPB), the screening unit bases its operations in Chicago and is financed by the Illinois Lions Clubs.

Because of the uncertainty of eye physicians who perform glaucoma check-ups, advanced notice of the mobile unit's visit here could not be made, it was explained. The unit is capable of testing an individual about every 10 minutes. Glaucoma is a disease of the eye, and if there is too much pressure in the eye, it can lead to blindness. The ISPB estimates there are 100,000 persons in Illinois with simple glaucoma and do not suspect it.

The Lions Club glaucoma unit, since put into use last October, has checked about 10,000 persons, and working with physicians of the areas visited has discovered nearly 300 cases of glaucoma.

The Illinois Lions Clubs purchased the unit for $30,000 and pay operational expenses which amount to about another $30,000 a year.

But then nobody's ever announced a car like this before.

Super Hugger

If it were an ordinary sportster, we'd have introduced it at the ordinary time. Instead, we took the time to build a whole new Camaro.

We started with a sleek new shape and a low road-hugging stance.

And added more hood. A faster backstab. Wider doors. And new deeply contoured bucket seats.

The instrument panel wraps around you. With enough dials to make you think you're piloting a T-47.

There are four transmissions. And six power plants, up to the Turbo-Jet 396 V8 that you can order.

Pick the one that best suits your driving. Then go pick on an open road.

And make it one with plenty of twisting turns. Because Camaro has a remarkable new suspension. And standard front disc brakes for a leech-like grip on the road.

New Camaro. The Super Hugger.

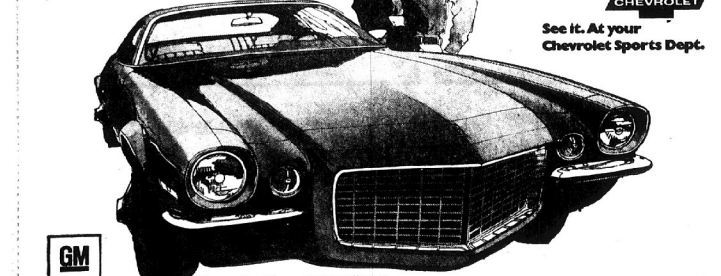

Other sportsters always feared it might come to this.

And they were right. Only their timing was wrong.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Silver, Bronze Star Medals Arrive for Vietnam Vet Mink

A battered package, containing two highly-prized medals won by a Granite City serviceman in Vietnam three years ago last month, arrived Thursday at his home — a full 27 months after his release from the Armed Forces.

Former Army Sp4 Robert M. Mink Jr. received the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action and the Bronze Star Medal with "V" Device, also for valorous action.

Both medals were awarded in connection with a combat operation on Jan. 16, 1967, in Vietnam, in which Sp4 Mink killed several wounded companions, although seriously wounded himself.

The ex-serviceman was notified of his nomination to receive the medals prior to release from the Army in November, 1967, but had not inquired on their failure to arrive after his discharge.

The well-travelled package apparently was sent to several addresses, including the former mailing address of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Mink Sr., who were residing in Florida until six weeks ago when they returned to Granite City.

Now employed at Granite City Tile Co., 3201 Bern avenue, the medal winner and his wife, the former Patricia Kalips, reside at 1810 August street. The couple was married last July 17.

While in Vietnam with the 13th Airborne Brigade, the former paratrooper was wounded in the left leg and foot by an enemy hand grenade and in the back from enemy small arms fire. He was hospitalized for six months at military facilities in Vietnam, Japan and Seoul, Korea, before returning to the States.

The 23-year-old veteran and former medical corpsman also holds two Purple Heart Medals and other official commendation awards.

The citations which accompanied the long-delayed medals, cite Mink in each instance for extreme heroism on Jan. 16, 1967. They read in part:

"For heroism in connection with military operations against a hostile force, Sp4 Robert M. Mink distinguished himself by gallantry in action against an armed hostile force on Jan. 16, 1967, while serving as a medical corpsman with Company B, 4th Battalion (Airborne), 503d Infantry, 13th Airborne Brigade (Separate).

"On this date, Specialist Mink's platoon attacked an estimate reinforced Viet Cong platoon defending a complex, well-concealed tunnel and bunker system. As the third platoon of Company B moved forward under intense hostile enemy fire, several of their number were wounded.

"Specialist Mink responded unhesitatingly to the call for a medic. With complete disregard for his own safety, he ran forward through the raking enemy fire to reach the wounded men. With calmness and professional skill, Specialist Mink rapidly evacuated the wounded men. Moving through the intense fire, he began treating the seriously wounded casualties. This was accomplished while he possessed with the extreme importance of his task.

"As he was administering aid, Specialist Mink was wounded by a hand grenade. With utter contempt for his own painful wound, he continued to brave the fire and treat the wounded. His own wound still untreated, Specialist Mink returned to the heaviest point of contact and once again moved forward and began administering aid to casualties.

He was again hit by small arms fire, but continued to move among the wounded. He organized and led another small party of men who evacuated the second group of wounded soldiers to the rear.

"Painfully and with great difficulty, Specialist Mink returned a third time to the front, but was ordered back by the acting platoon leader. Specialist Mink continued to treat the wounded and only after another aid-man arrived did he allow himself to be returned to a safe area and have his own wounds treated.

"Specialist Mink's gallant actions at the risk of his own life served as an inspiration to the men of Company B. His complete devotion to duty and his unhesitating willingness to give his life in the performance of his duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

Although working daily, the ex-serviceman still experiences difficulty with his leg wounds. Mink said, and is scheduled for treatment at the veterans hospital in St. Louis.

The medalist's brother, Army Sp4 Donald Kenneth Mink, 20, died July 19, 1969, in Vietnam, of injuries suffered when he was thrown from a military vehicle near Cu Chi.

Their father, a career Army man, retired from the service in 1959 after 24 years active duty, serving in world war II and the Korean Conflict.

Mr. and Mrs. Mink Sr. presently reside at Gaslight Walk apartments.

PROMOTED IN GERMANY. Army Sgt. E-5 Carl E. Downs (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Downs, 64 Garesche Homes, Madison, being congratulated by Capt. Horst Drewes, commanding officer of the 287th Military Police Co. of the Berlin Brigade. In the service two years and in Germany one year, he is to be discharged in April and plans to enter training to become a special investigator with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. His wife, Phyllis, and daughter, Carla, returned home in January. Capt. Drewes cited his leadership and reliability.

Unions Reject Governor's Plan to End Fund Freeze

The proposal by Gov. Ogilvie to end the $100 million Federal highway fund freeze in Madison and St. Clair counties has been rejected by labor unions of the area, it was reported Tuesday.

The governor has been notified of the rejection and a meeting is being sought with Ogilvie so that the unions can air their views.

William Horstman, executive secretary of the Conference of Southern Illinois Building and Trades Business Representatives.

He said that Paul Wisner, the governor's deputy director of the Office of Human Resources, was informed that the plan in its present form is unacceptable.

He pointed out that the executive council of the building trades department of AFL-CIO objected to the apprenticeship provisions of the governor's plan during a recent meeting in Miami, Fla.

Unlawful to Dump Oil in Sewers, City Advises

A violation of the city ordinance prohibiting the dumping of oil in sewer lines was noted during Monday night's Granite City council session by Alderman Basarich, chairman of the sewage treatment plant.

Basarich, who displayed a jar containing the oil, said the substance "causes severe problems at the treatment plant" and anyone dumping oil into sewers is subject to a fine.

The jar was given to Basarich by Robert Jackson, sewage treatment plant superintendent, who said any large amount of the waste oil would disrupt operations at the treatment plant.

Basarich urged that reminders be issued to all service station operators reminding them of the city law.

Alderman Moerlen, former chairman of the treatment plant committee, said such information was relayed to all service stations and industries when the treatment plant was opened several years ago, but that he had been to a service station where an attendant was dumping a large amount of oil in the sewer.

"I advised him of the law, and I guess it's time again to issue reminders," he added.

City Accepts Street; Again Calls for Crossing Repairs

Granite City council members accepted a street in a new subdivision addition, again ordered repairs to rail crossings and both condemned and lauded utilities for repairs to street excavations.

An ordinance adopted during Monday night's session accepted a concrete street and sewer-drainage lines serving 11 lots in the second addition to Wilson Park Estates subdivision. The street and sewers had been inspected by the city engineer prior to preparation of the ordinance.

Alderman Poules called upon City Atty. Leon Scroggins to write the Illinois Terminal Railroad and Terminal Railroad Association calling for repairs to rail crossings. He said the 22nd street crossing is in deplorable condition.

Poules ordered removal of abandoned rails at crossings on East 23rd street near Monroe street, and on Lincoln avenue near 23rd street. "It's about time something is done there," he added.

Street Patchwork
Criticism of patchwork repairs by utilities was voiced by

Alderman Whitmer, who said in some instances the firms are not following the city ordinance in carrying out repairs to street excavations.

"They're doing it in a piecemeal manner and sections of curbs and driveways are breaking down," Whitmer said, pointing out holes and curb breakages along 23rd street in the vicinity of Madison avenue.

Alderman Nunn said he had phoned both the water company and the power company, designating individual instances and that repairs had been made in a proper manner. "In one case on 20th street the water company replaced an entire driveway. What each alderman needs to do is to contact the companies and point out the places where repairs are needed," he added.

Excavation permits were issued to Illinois Power Co. and to Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Monday night. The power company is to place a gas main along Ohio avenue at Rock road for a distance of 100 feet, and the telephone company plans two excavations for an underground cable—for 135 feet on the east side of Vesel avenue north of Pontoon road and for 361 feet south of Pontoon road and east of Maryville road.

Cumulative Vote Curbs Right to Choose—Howlett

Constitutional revision in Illinois should abolish cumulative voting for members of the House of Representatives, Michael J. Howlett, state auditor of public accounts, said today in addressing a luncheon of the Peoria Rotary club-North.

Howlett said the 1870 Constitution lets representative district committees deprive the people of a right to choose between party nominees.

"Why should three men, usually almost unknown to the public and to the party membership generally, sit down in a room together at a private meeting, usually without public knowledge, and decide whether to give the people a choice or not? Let's abolish this authority of Representative District Committees," Howlett said.

Unlikely in Nation

"Illinois is the only state in the union with this weird provision for cumulative voting. It did not exist in Illinois, either, before 1870.

"It was invented in 1870 to provide for minority representation at a time when the Republican party controlled northern Illinois and the Democratic party the southern section.

"Under cumulative voting, each voter has three votes for the three seats in the legislature from his district, which he can divide up as he chooses.

"He can give all three votes to one man, or give 1½ to each of two, or one vote to each of three. He can even give two votes to one man and one to another, though this is a tricky procedure and not many voters try it.

"The new invention did accomplish its purpose at the time. It increased Democratic representation from northern Illinois from five to 36, and Republicans from the south half from eight to 23 members.

Extended to Primaries
"At that time there were no primaries. Nominations were by party caucus and convention. When we switched to direct primaries, the courts ruled we had to take cumulative voting in the primaries, too.

"Representative Committees are given power to decide how many candidates shall be nominated in the primaries. Sometimes they ignore party strength and arrange for only three nominees to be made between the parties.

"The nominees selected by the parties are thus assured election, without giving the voters in the general election any choice.

"To protect the theory of minority representation while doing away with cumulative voting, I've suggested several times that the Constitution provide for parties each to nominate two, and no more than two, candidates for the three seats in each district.

"The voters could vote for one, two or three, but could not cumulate their votes. The 'X' in the box would be good for only one vote in all cases.

"No party then could elect more than two, so there would be minority representation from every district. But the voters would be able to make the decision in the general election, not finalize it in the party primaries.

"We may need to keep Representative District Committees to fill a vacancy that might arise on the ballot between nomination and election. But we should not give them the authority to deprive the people of a choice in electing their state representatives in the general election."

Avery Schermer is serving as general chairman of the brunch for the 12th year. Lawrence Palkes will be master chef and Vern Thompson will be master mixer. Walter Gavlick is in charge of tickets. Mick Strange publicity and Ed Dubish, hospitality. Tickets are available from any member of the club. License Plates Taken Stolen from an auto, parked in front of the home of Mrs. Virginia Moad, 3701 Kirkpatrick Homes, about 9 a.m. Monday, was a set of 1969 Tennessee license plates. Mrs. Moad told police the plates were taken from a car belonging to her son.

Income Tax Chart Use Errors Delay Refunds

So far this year 1106 taxpayers in the Springfield District have used the wrong tax table or rate schedule in computing their 1969 Federal income tax. Not only have refunds been delayed but many taxpayers have overpaid their income tax as a result, Jay G. Philpott, district director, reported today. The problem occurs when a married taxpayer filing a joint return uses the tax table for either married couples filing separately or for single persons. Frequently, a single taxpayer uses the tables for married taxpayers by mistake. There are separate tax tables for single persons, unmarried heads of household, married couples filing jointly and married couples filing separate returns. Computation from the wrong tax table results in the wrong tax due. Some taxpayers, as a result of the error, receive a smaller or larger refund and others receive a bill for additional tax.

Another major reason for refund delay is the failure of taxpayers to include their correct social security number. So far this year, 389 refunds have been delayed because of incorrect or missing social security numbers. Other errors include mistakes in arithmetic and failure of husband and wife to sign on a joint return.

Combat Promotion

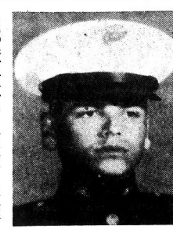

Bronze Star, Purple Heart Medals for Marine Caudron

Marine Corporal John K. Caudron, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Caudron Sr., 2839 Palmer avenue, recently was presented the Bronze Star Medal with Combat Distinguishing Device and earned a meritorious combat promotion for action against the enemy in Vietnam.

The youthful Marine also received the Purple Heart Medal for wounds suffered in the same incident in which he earned the Bronze Star.

Bronze Star Citation

The citation accompanying the Bronze Star, reads in part: "For heroic achievement in connection with combat operations against the enemy in the Republic of Vietnam while serving with the 81mm Mortar Platoon, Headquarters Company, Fifth Marines, First Marine Division. On Aug. 19, 1969, the An Hoa Combat Base came under a heavy ground attack by a large North Vietnamese Army Force. During the initial moments of the fire fight, Pfc John K. Caudron's position was hit by several hostile hand grenades, seriously wounding him and his companions. "With complete disregard for his own painful wounds, he commenced delivering accurate fire at the enemy while his more seriously wounded comrades were evacuated to positions of relative safety. When reinforcements subsequently arrived, Pfc Caudron repeatedly exposed himself to the hostile rounds as he effectively fired his 81mm mortar at the enemy. "Resolutely maintaining his position throughout the fire fight, he was instrumental in forcing the North Vietnamese Army unit to withdraw.

"Pfc Caudron's courage, aggressive fighting spirit and unswerving devotion to duty in the face of extreme personal danger inspired all who observed him and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and of the U. S. Navy." According to the serviceman's father, Cpl. Caudron sustained shrapnel wounds about the face and left eye from the hand grenade attack, but failed to mention he had been injured in his letters home.

1968 GCHS Graduate

The Marine, a 1968 graduate of Granite City high school, was assigned to Vietnam last June 2. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in September 1968. The medal winner has a brother also serving in Vietnam. Aviation Electrician Mate James Caudron Jr., 21, U. S. Navy, is serving with the 7th Helicopter Squadron, Detachment 10, currently assigned to the USS Ranger, an aircraft carrier, as an attack support and rescue unit. The vessel presently is stationed off the coast of North Vietnam.

The older Caudron son, whose home base is in the Philippine Islands, arrived at DaNang, Vietnam, on Feb. 8, but was unable to meet with his brother. The pair hope to visit each other when James returns to DaNang.

Picket Driveway Job At Building Project

Brief picketing that lasted for about an hour was begun Tuesday at a home construction job in the 2500-2600 blocks of Pontoon road by Cement Finishers Local 90 and was ended when a union member was assigned to the job of finishing concrete on a driveway project.

The incident occurred when a load of concrete for driveway installation arrived unexpectedly and had to be poured immediately according to James Watts of the Watts Construction Co., who said it was all a mistake.

A union spokesman said a picket was placed at the site because the cement was being finished by other than a union member. "We don't know who they were using on the job, but they were not using our men," the agent said. He said the picket was withdrawn when a union finished was assigned to the job.

Liens Can Hamper Property Sale

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

If you are a homeowner or prospective homeowner and you don't know the meaning of the legal term "mechanic's lien," now is a good time to learn.

Most people who make any substantial alterations, addition or improvement to your property are entitled to a lien, or claim, against the property for the cost of the labor and materials.

It's the law's way of saying that a laborer is worthy of his hire. If not paid for his services, his lien could interfere with the sale or transfer of the property.

In addition to the primary contractor — the one whom you hire to do the work — a subcontractor can place a lien on the property for the labor and materials he provides. A subcontractor can also qualify for a mechanic's lien if not paid for his services.

In the case of the contractor, the lien against the property owner lasts without further action for two years.

If, within four months following completion of his work, he also files a "claim" for lien with the County Recorder, his lien will be good against a third party.

Under Illinois law, all liens expire within two years of completion of the property improvement.

The contractor who does not file suit to foreclose a lien during that period still may have other legal remedies available to him, however. For example, he might file suit against the

Supreme Court Justice Despises America; His Book Encouraging Revolt Is Revolting

During 1969, it was publicly questioned whether William O. Douglas should remain on the U. S. Supreme Court in view of his leading role in a foundation controlling gambling casinos and other businesses. With the publication in 1970 of his book, "Points of Rebellion," his judicial post could be challenged on other grounds—the extent of his dedication to America and its ideals.

Although he has power as an associate justice to remedy some of the defects in the U. S. and more often than not has majority backing for his court opinions, he gives the nation incredibly low marks in his book and implies that citizens would be justified in overthrowing the government (including presumably the Supreme Court).

Douglas writes, "George III was the symbol against which our founders made a revolution now considered bright and glorious." Whether it will continue to adhere to his tactics, we do not know. If it does, the redress, honored in tradition, is also revolution.

Conceding that violence has no constitutional sanction, he says that "where grievances pile high and most of the elected spokesmen represent the Establishment, violence may be the only effective response. If, with its stockpile of arms, it resolves to suppress the dissent, America will face, I fear, an awful ordeal."

How much does he fear it? What are the grievances? Who are the sinister perpetrators? The justice finds them everywhere:

FBI and CIA electronic surveillance are cited. "Every phone in every federal or state agency is suspect. Every conference room is a listening post. Every telephone is an open transmitter. Certain hotels in Washington have rooms that are wired for sound and even contain two-way mirrors."

The Pentagon has a "fantastic budget that enables it to dream of putting down the much-needed revolutions which will arise in Peru, in the Philippines, and in other bright countries."

"At the international level, we have become virtually paranoid. A black silence of fear possesses the nation and is causing us to jettison some of our liberal traditions. Truman nurtured that fear. Johnson promoted it, preaching that the people of the world want what we have, and, unless suppressed, will take it from us."

Bureaucracy is assailed. He says he worries over how to get "even a thin slice of the farm benefits, that go to the rich, into the lunch boxes of the poor."

"How does one give HEW and its state counterparts a humane approach which would crumple against an illegitimate child or to conduct night raids without the search warrants needed before even a poor man's house may be entered by the police?"

He says he favors the rich, creating an "upside-down welfare state. Railroads, airlines, shipping, these are all subsidized; and those companies' doors are not kicked down by the police at night."

Aside from the "reforms" that he thinks might come from a drastic "restructuring" of government and laws, Douglas offers little hope. Enforcement of existing laws is seen as a "disaster." He quotes Hitler in 1932: "The dictatorship of the masses is the only way to save the streets of our country are in turmoil. The universities are filled with students rebelling and rioting. We need law and order."

Description of the revolution as possibly the only honorable alternative to oppression by those in authority. Douglas would give such high respect and status to the dissenters and protest left defenseless against injury and vandalism.

How respectful would this be to the public law? How honorable would this kind of law? How would it prove to be? These are only two of numerous questions that come to mind in pondering the justice's future ability to serve a nation he has begun to hate.

Open Space Gives This County Bright Future Prospects If Constructive Steps Are Taken

East-West Gateway Coordinating Council estimates of 1970 population show the St. Louis metropolitan area advancing from 2,606,650 now to five million, with Madison county soaring from 276,756 to 887,257 in the next two decades due to its abundant land for industrial and residential growth, the existence of SIU-SW and the proximity to relatively crowded sections of the bi-state region. St. Clair county is seen as gaining only from 307,241 to 453,408.

While all such projections must be considered as possible, rather than certain, there clearly are outstanding prospects for quantitative and qualitative expansion of the Illinois portion of the metropolitan area, which has not filled in as rapidly or as completely as the Missouri portion.

Comparative highway developments — if the 20-month federal road fund freeze is lifted soon—also are expected to give Madison and St. Clair counties a distinct edge over far western parts of St. Louis county and adjacent Missouri counties.

All of which puts an even more intense spotlight on the amount of positive citizen action that is in the coming months. There is much to gain, or lose. A dazzling bright potential exists—if we can marshal the foresight and knowhow and energy to make the most of it.

5497 Madison County SIU Students, 2881 From Home County of the Original Campus

Quad-City's somewhat proprietary interest in SIU-SW is understandable after a review of the fall 1969 Southern Illinois University enrollment. Taking in both the Carbondale and Southwestern campuses, the 35,154 students (31,489 from Illinois, 3114 from out-of-state and 551 from foreign countries) included 5497 residents of Madison county.

This county's total was exceeded only by mammoth Cook county's 6239. St. Clair county was third with 3982 and Jackson county, home of the Carbondale campus, was fourth with 2881.

The combined Madison-St. Clair counties figure of 9479 compares with 2652 from these counties in the fall of 1968. The combined total of Madison and St. Clair counties in the grand total of SIU students was 11,394.

The figures bear out that there was an acute lack of higher education facilities in this population region. That the Southwestern campus is trying hard to meet the expanding need.

Protection of Environment Joins Production as an Industrial Objective

(Illinois Power Co. Annual Report)

The ultimate solution to the problems of environment, including air pollution, lies in advanced technology, in the opinion of Wendell J. Kelley, president, and Allen Van Wyk, chairman of the board of the company.

"We believe that all industry—including Illinois Power and the entire electric industry—must recognize its responsibilities and use the same intelligence and managerial foresight in protecting our environment as in producing the goods and services that our society demands and requires."

Illinois Power over the next five years plans to spend $16 million in anti-pollution efforts. The year of 1969 brought a revenue increase of 8.3% in sales of electricity and 11.3% in sales of natural gas.

Earnings per share of common stock for 1969 were $2.45, an increase of 24 cents per share over 1968. Net income was $37,699,000, compared with $33,357,000 in 1968.

Total electric sales amounted to 7,972,000 kilowatt hours in the 15,000-square-mile area served by the company. Gas sales were 944,830 therms, an increase of 17.4% over 1968.

A major task of industry as a whole is to inform people that the elimination of pollution is going to be costly to them in money and, quite possibly, in the reduction or change in the nature of goods and services that they now regard as necessities or conveniences," Van Wyk and Kelley comment.

"Every person in the United States should realize that he himself is contributing directly to the pollution and transmission, distribution and other additions. Included is a second 600,000-kilowatt unit at Baldwin, planned for completion and $232 million for generation and $231 million for

Deduct-Or You May Overpay Tax

(Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants)

Each year, many taxpayers overlook their federal income tax by failing to claim all the deductions allowed.

Taxes for 1969 will be higher than in the past because of the 10% surcharge, so it is important for taxpayers to know the deductions that are available.

While the following list is not complete, it does point out some of the more overlooked deductions that are often overlooked.

The use of your car for charitable work, for example, qualifies as a contribution to charity. The IRS will allow a deduction for the amount from the fair market value of the donation.

Interest on installment purchases is deductible but is limited to 6% a year on the average unpaid balance if the interest charge is not separately stated by the lender.

If the interest is detailed, as specified by the "truth in lending" law, the taxpayer may be able to claim a large amount. Sales tax tables are provided in the income tax instructions

HEAVEN WITHIN REACH BY USING GOLDEN RULE

On Feb. 12 and 13, we were all at the Conrad-Hilton in Chicago, largest hotel in the world. The Chicago people seem to be concerned about the same things that Madison county people are, and for basically the same reasons.

Can you imagine what a heavenly place granite City or any other city or the world — would be? That would mean that no one would hate anyone else. It would mean that all robbers and killers would become saints.

There would still be differences of opinion, but all could and would be settled in the atmosphere of brotherhood. There would be no more sense of victim. It would mean safety on the streets day and night.

Because of the absence of crime, there would be large sums of money to be spent on better streets, better schools, better homes.

Friends, why not try this practical order of life? You'll be happier and wealthier. Try it.

There would be less sickness. On the average, people would live happier, more contented and longer lives.

According to the law of the land — but not according to heaven's law — every man and woman has the right to smoke and drink, but many will have to pay a big price — cancer of the lungs, alcoholism, perhaps a tragic death on the highway. Is it worth that price?

And more — a bad example of modern medicine, heart failure or alcoholism for a son or daughter or grandchildren.

If a person instead of spending $200 per year for cigarettes would save that money, he would have $10,000 at the end of 50 years. On top of that, if he put the money out at 5% interest, he would have over $12,000 to spend on his family's needs, and that without using a cent of the $10,000.

Do we wish to spend $22,000 on smokes? Think it over.

PEOPLE WANT CAPABLE, EFFICIENT GOVERNMENT To the Editor: During the week of Feb. 9-13, the Constitutional Convention conducted what became known as the "Road Show," which had a much easier time of it than the hearings held away from the seat of the Convention.

A small select committee held hearings around the state Feb. 9 and 10 to try to conserve funds, and on Feb. 11 we were in the city of five different Chicago suburban areas to find out what the suburbs have in mind.

The Revenue Committee met at Homewood-Flossmoor, which is to Chicago what Edwardsville is to downtown St. Louis — the suburbs in time and type of community.

The main difference is the highly-refined mass transit that connects the suburbs to Chicago, which takes the form of rail service at extremely frequent intervals and which we might do well to copy.

Despite all this wealth, officials of the church are demanding that the public support their private religious schools. I think it is high time that churches which have enough money to invest in real estate and property be taxed the same as any other organization.

Venice park district residents will elect three commissioners this year. The terms of Oscar Martin and President Ernest Overby and Herbert Means have filed.

Construction of the local division of Mississippi River diversion canal opposite this community at a cost of $10 million has been approved and awaits only the signature of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Cong. Melvin Price told the Press-Record. The Rivers and Harbors Act of 1917 authorized the project. The diversion canal, for channel eight miles long, nine feet deep and 300 feet wide. The project will put Granite City on a deep waterway for the first time, a waterway stretching from New Orleans to points as far north as Chicago. The project will save the way for another improvement, river docks. With uninterrupted river navigation from the far north, raw materials such as ores might be shipped to heavy industries in the Tri-State area and their finished products loaded on barges and sent on downstream to southern states, South America and elsewhere.

Vague Wording Causes Litigation

(Public Administration Service)

The language of the present Illinois Constitution is not the most skillfully drafted in the history of the world. The Constitution after all, is a legal document which requires some precision and consistency of terminology. Other legal documents, however, are necessary to fix the limits of ambiguous phrases and the specific contents of general terminology.

The phraseology used to treat of local government in the Constitution of 1870 is both imprecise and inconsistent. Article IV, Section 20, prohibits the state to assume debts of or lend credit to public corporations.

Article VIII, Sec. 3, prohibits contributions for sectarian purposes by a "county, city, town, township, school district or other public corporation."

Article IV, Sec. 22, which bans special laws on stated subjects, refers variously to "cities, towns or villages" and to "townships, incorporated towns or cities."

Article IX, Sec. 3, concerning elections from state taxes, cities "counties and other municipal corporations."

Article IX, Sec. 6, prohibits amelioration of the debts of a "county, city, township, town or district."

Article IX, Sec. 9, authorizes "local improvements" by special assessment in "cities, towns and villages" at one point, and at another allows the grant of taxing powers to "all municipal corporations."

Article IX, Sec. 10 and 11, refer simply to "municipal corporations."

Article IX, Sec. 12, the debt limitation, is specific. It applies to "county, city, township, school district or other municipal corporations."

Article XI, Sec. 4, requires local consent for construction of a street railroad in a "city, town or incorporated village." And the separate section which bans public investments in private securities applies to "county, city, town, township or other municipality."

The implications of the phrase "local municipal government" in the city of Chicago charter section (Art. IV, Sec. 34) were discussed previously.

Audubon Society Gives Tips On Attracting Bluebirds

It's been a long, cold winter, but believe it or not, in just a few weeks bluebirds will be singing a welcome to spring and purple martins will circle the skies looking for a good place to bring up a family, the Illinois Audubon Society advises.

Bluebirds and martins nest in cavities such as holes in dead trees. Land clearance and tree removal can mean a housing shortage for the birds. Luckily both species readily accept nest boxes and those of us who put them up are well rewarded by these good bird neighbors.

This year the Illinois Audubon Society is offering free bluebird nest box plans and informational leaflets about the "little bird with the sky on its back" and the purple martin, found throughout the United States where it consumes unbelievable amounts of insects, including mosquitoes, before heading back to South America in the late summer.

It is easy to entice these birds to take up residence on your property if you know what they like. Bluebirds, for example, prefer a box placed within four feet of the ground. Martins like a home placed in the open 15 to 20 feet from the ground.

To learn more about these attractive birds send a self-addressed stamped envelope to "Bluebirds, Illinois Audubon Society, 1017 Burlington Avenue, Downers Grove, Ill. 60515. Both leaflets are free. And the Audubon Society will be interested to hear of any nesting success.

Lichtenberger and three other section chairmen will contact 134 firms in Madison county and will be assisted by 26 volunteer solicitors. RIDC and the Research Council and non-profit civic corporations which depend entirely on membership contributions for financial support.

Partners in Hideaway Lounge in Legal Row

Litigation is under way in Madison county circuit court involving a partnership in the operation of the Hideaway lounge, Old By-pass 66 and 67 at Mitchell.

In seeking an injunction, Woodrow Cavins, a partner, claims he has been denied access to the property as locks were changed, that his name was dropped from a bank account and the state liquor license, and that he has not received an accounting or a share of the profits in the operation.

Cavins asks that Alfred E. Frith be enjoined from disposing of property or drawing any funds from the bank account, that the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank be restrained from honoring any checks for withdrawal of funds from the account, that the partnership be dissolved, an accounting taken and a receiver appointed.

The court has ordered that Cavins' name be restored to the bank account, that any transactions be co-signed and that access to the property be restored. A further hearing has been set for March 30.

Local Chairmen Prepare For Easter Seal Drive

Door-to-door delivery of the Easter Seals in the Quad-City area will be conducted March 28-April 1, with an allowance of $22 to cover expenses.

Major items on the bill list included $948 paid to Research Planning & Design Associates for engineering services under contract for 47½ hours and out-of-pocket expenses; $15,000 paid to Milam East Corp. for garbage and trash disposal during February, and motor fuel tax fund expenditures totaling $125 paid to Research Planning & Design for proposed street projects.

On the credit side, the city was notified by the state revenue department that the February allocation of motor fuel tax funds is $32,388, and it was reported that the city has received a second check from the Civil Defense emergency disaster program in the amount of $41,500.

Local volunteers organizing the Easter Seal Society event in Granite City are Mrs. Ralph Rigney and Mrs. Norman Kinder; in Madison, Mrs. Ralph Rigney; Venice Mrs. Joseph Meehan; Mitchell, Mrs. Willard Myers, and the Pontoon area, Mrs. Raymond Lallemand. Mrs. Rigney and Mrs. Kinder also will distribute canisters throughout the area. Proceeds from the campaign support services to the physically handicapped children and adults in the area.

Miss Marie Repp, executive director of the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois, said that 90% of the funds raised in the community will stay in the area to help the physically handicapped. Assistance and research projects carried on by the National and State Easter Seal Societies receive the remaining 10%.

The Easter Seal Society services include pre-schools in Granite City, Alton and Belleville and O'Fallon; occupational therapy on a consultant basis; equipment loan at no cost to the individual and referral services.

The summer day camps serve physically handicapped children from ages three through 15.

Lt. Gov. Paul Simon will serve as the southwestern Illinois campaign chairman for the Easter Seal Society fund drive.

City's Payroll, Bills, Sick Leave—$95,643

A payroll of $60,451 for the last half of February, $1663 sick leave benefit payments and a $33,529 bill list were approved Monday night by Granite City council members without any discussion. The total amounted to $95,643.

In separate action, the council approved a payment of $300 to the firm of Ryckman, Edgerley, Tomlinson & Associates, St. Louis, as the final installment for engineering services on a survey to evaluate the Granite City air pollution control programs. Last month, the council approved the initial payment of $1500 to the firm.

Approval also was given for Victor Koenig, civil defense director, to attend the U.S. Civil Defense Council's annual meeting in Washington, D.C., March 28-April 1, with an allowance of $22 to cover expenses.

Major items on the bill list included $948 paid to Research Planning & Design Associates for engineering services under contract for 47½ hours and out-of-pocket expenses; $15,000 paid to Milam East Corp. for garbage and trash disposal during February, and motor fuel tax fund expenditures totaling $125 paid to Research Planning & Design for proposed street projects.

Police Car Repair Bill Totals $544

A low bid of $544 from Bill's Auto Body Shop was accepted Monday night by Granite City council members for repairs for a police patrol car damaged in an accident early Sunday morning.

The patrol car was struck at the left rear after officers had halted a motorist on Route 3 a short distance north of Nameoki drive. Both officers were out of the car when it was hit by a northbound auto driven by Donald Sweet, 35, St. Louis, who said he apparently had dozed. He was charged with reckless driving.

Council members called upon Comptroller Stevens to advertise for bids for a new motorcycle for the police department.

Alderman Dallas, chairman of the Sanitary committee, asked council members to consider seeking bids for a new vehicle for the humane officer.

He noted that a recent repair bill is becoming excessive. A safety measure in the city hall boiler room was recommended by Alderman Boker, who said covers should be replaced on all fuse boxes. "Someone is going to get hurt, if they're not replaced. There should be no excessive charge, because the lids are lying there in the boiler room," he added.

Heart Sunday Drive Collections—$1472

Mrs. Lily Chaboude, Heart Sunday chairman for Granite City, announced Tuesday that $1472 was collected in Sunday's house-to-house canvas conducted by groups of volunteer workers for the current Heart Association fund drive.

Mrs. Chaboude pointed out the figure is not a final count as many of the volunteers still have contacts to make and will turn in more contributions during this week.

Due to the inclement weather on Heart Sunday, the drive was extended one more week throughout the county-wide area.

Volunteers who have contributed may turn them in to Mrs. Chaboude at her home, 2885 Ralph street, after 6 p.m.

GC Trust Advances Among Largest Banks

The Granite City Trust & Savings bank stepped up 35 places in rank among the nation's largest banks last year, according to word received by Ernest Karandjeff, president, in a telegram from American Bankers congratulating him on the bank's progress in 1969.

The telegram informed Karandjeff that Granite City Trust & Savings gained in rank from 1498th to 1503rd among the 2000 largest banks in the nation.

"This growth is a result of our effort to bring the best banking service possible to our people in the Quad-Cities," Karandjeff said. "It is due to our many friends and depositors who have patronized us over the years."

The bank recently completed installation of new drive-in facilities that allows for service of 60% more cars in a given period.

Your "Realtor" Is Your Specialist In The Real Estate Field

How to shop for money.

Many prospective buyers don't know much about financing — how or where to get a mortgage.

Sell your home yourself, and there's not much you can do to help him. A Realtor knows just about all there is to know about financing. He works very closely with all kinds of financial institutions. He knows their methods and requirements.

Very simply, he can help your buyer find the money he needs to buy your house. Red tape.

Selling a house involves many details. Paperwork, title searches, finance arrangements. There are a hundred little things to be done.

Unless you have a mind like a computer, you need a Realtor to get everything done and keep it straight. He and your attorney will guide you through the tangle of details as painlessly and safely as possible.

Be it ever so humble.

Crowded closets may make a home look lived in, but it doesn't do much for a prospective buyer. Neither does a dripping faucet, unkempt lawn or loose doorknob.

There are dozens of little things you can do to make your house more selectable. A Realtor can show them to you. (Some of them would never have occurred to you.)

Showmanship is all it's cracked up to be.

In conclusion.

You may be wondering why Chicago Title and Trust Company cares about how you will sell your home. After all, we're in the business of insuring titles to real estate, not selling it. It's just that after 122 years of serving the title needs of Chicagoland, we've come to know how important Realtors are and how much they can help you.

We wanted you to know, too.
